Two weeks of joint investigation by the Lake County Sheriff's Office and the Antioch Police Department led to the arrest of Timothy George Camphouse of Antioch on July 21, for the possession of over 20 pounds of cannabis with the intent to distribute.

Additionally, $3,525 in cash and other controlled substances such as Valium and Vicodin was found in the home when the search warrant was executed.

Deputy John VanDien of the Lake County Sheriff's Office said police were acting on a tip made by a confidential informant of his. VanDien said, "He (Camphouse) is believed to be the major supplier in the area. This is a very short distance to the high school, and there are grade schools in the area."

Investigation by the two departments garnered the information necessary for the search warrant.

Police records show that Camphouse, 32, who lives with his parents at 650 Garys Drive, was arrested in 1990 for possession. "He had priors," said Antioch Police Chief Chuck Fagan. "There were a lot of juvenile contacts with this kid, some minor consumption (of alcohol)."

Fagan said the investigation is still pending and that official charges won't be set until after contacting the state's attorney's office

Mayor charges 'coup d'etat'

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Mayor Taso Maravelas accused Trustee Mary Turner of inciting a "coup d'etat" when she introduced a resolution for approval to limit elected officials from taking a hired position within the village for a period of three years after leaving office.

"With the exception of running for reelection, or running for any other elected office within the village of Antioch, it is the policy of the village of Antioch that no elected official, upon vacancy of office whether voluntary or expired term, work for the village of Antioch in any capacity in any existing or newly created positions of the village for a minimum of three years after holding office," Turner said.

Though the mayor never clarified why he felt such an action was an attempt to overthrow the government of Antioch by force, Turner said she thought the measure was important as the governing body sets hiring criteria, salaries and ultimately fills all positions.

The resolution mentioned the importance of keeping residents informed about the intentions of the board with regard to hiring and that there is the need to build "a trusting relationship between the residents of the village of Antioch and public officials."

Trustee Bob Caulfield said he felt a resolution like this "perpetuates" the notion that there isn't communication or a trusting relationship without any proof that that is how community members feel.

"I have no problem with the resolution, but I don't concur that there's not open communication," he said.

Trustee Larry Hanson criticized the document. "How can you hold that someone who is very qualified for

Amendments clarify intergovernmental agreement

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Amendments approved by the board of education of Community High School District 117 should serve to clarify the intent of intergovernmental agreement between the district and townships of both Antioch and Lake Villa regarding the use of the Antioch-Lake Villa Township Center and its adjacent fields.

The building houses the offices of both Antioch Township and the high school district and has a community room that is available to residents of both Antioch and Lake Villa.

Supt. Dennis Hockney said that it had always been clearly stated, but not specifically written into the intergovernmental agreement, that Lake Villa Township came into the cooperative because it needed athletic fields and that it would have first priority to use the fields when school is not in session.

"Lake Villa Township had Illinois

First funding that came through Tim Osmond's office (former representative of District 61)," said Hockney. "They were interested in fields. This property isn't in Lake Villa Township so there were never plans for them to move their offices here."

Linda Pedersen, who had been legislative aid to Osmond and his now his widow's legislative aid, said Lake Villa Township had $250,000 granted

Dist. 34 golf outing coming

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Duffers can help support Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 by participating in the District 34 Education Foundation's seventh annual golf outing.

"All of the money we raise at our golf outing goes directly back to the students," said Kathy Wilson, president of the District 34 Educational Foundation.

The outing will be held at Antioch Golf Course located on Route 59 on Aug. 13. Registration is currently underway, and $70 per person covers the cost of 18 holes of golf, cart, lunch and dinner complete with prizes. The dinner buffet is available for $25.

Wilson said that last year the foundation raised about $11,000 during this event. In the past, money has been used for computers, as mini-grants for creative teachers who have come up with new programs, to furnish early childhood classrooms and to sponsor students for the Odyssey of the Mind competition.

The money earned at this fundraiser has not been earmarked for anything specific.

Registration will take place at 11:30 a.m., and a lunch of hamburgers, bratwurst, potato salad, fruit and cookies and brownies will be served at that time. Shotgun start is at 1 p.m. and the format is two-man scramble.

Dinner will be served after a hospitality cash bar at 6 p.m. There will be some form of raffle.

The foundation is accepting all sponsorships and donations (items for door prizes). Sponsorships are as follows: entire hole, $400; tee, $200; green, $150; 150-yard, $75; and cart, $50.

Wilson added the foundation is actively seeking new members.

More information and reservation information is available at www.dist34.lake.k12.il.us or by calling Wilson at 847-395-0113.

Village in black, appropriations increase by nearly $5 million

Officials question spending habits

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

With the Village of Antioch in the black, the appropriation ordinance for the fiscal year 2003-04 has increased by about $5 million over last year's.

Trustee Dorothy Larson questioned $2 million set aside for land. "What is the use of the land and how do we expect to pay for it?" she asked.

Mayor Taso Maravelas answered that if an appropriate parcel of land became available, and if there were sales tax dollars to cover the expense, the village would consider purchasing land for a recreational center.

"Wal-Mart hasn't even dug a hole yet," said Larson.

Interim Village Administrator Bob Silhan said the appropriation ordinance would allow the village to purchase the land if the opportunity arose. "If you look at the budget, there is money in those accounts," he said. "If the money comes in, the village can choose to spend it on land."

Trustee Scott Pierce clarified that money must be appropriated to be spent, but appropriating doesn't mean it will be spent.

After the public hearing, the board of directors of the Village of Antioch approved the ordinance of about $23 million at its regular meeting.

The ordinance is based on the village's budget that was approved earlier this year. Unlike last year, this year's budget did not have to be kept to bare bones and money was set aside for some municipal vehicles.

The ordinance is a legal limit-spending document and is therefore written to be higher than the budget. If the village needed to exceed the limit set by this ordinance, an additional public hearing would have to be held to allow for it.

Chicken barbecue, auction to be held Aug. 3

Bargains abound for those with an appetite for good barbecue, just about anything else

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Years of experience will surely make the combined annual Antioch Lions Club chicken barbecue (the 45th) and Antioch Rescue Squad auction (the 29th) a day of good food, good fun and good deals for all who attend.

The event will be held on Aug. 3 at Williams Park located behind the Antioch Public Library and will run from 11 a.m.-6 p.m.

A barbecue chicken dinner, complete with fresh dessert, can be enjoyed in the park or carried out for $8.

"When the event first started, the Lions Club was in charge of both the auction and the barbecue," said Antioch Rescue Squad Chief Wayne Sobczak. "We took over the auction years later as all the proceeds went to us anyway."

The auction preview will be held at 11 a.m. followed by the silent auction at noon and the live auction at 1 p.m.

Proceeds from the food sales go to the Antioch Lions Club to support the community projects and programs it supports, while the money raised in the auction is used for the rescue squads' operating expenses. Typically, about 3,000 people will be served chicken and nearly $50,000 will be raised for the rescue squad.

Additionally, there is a treasure booth made up of garage-sale type items while the silent auction has nice items and antiques, as does the live auction.

"The Junior Women's Club runs the treasure booth for us," said Sobczak. "It's a good size tent filled with smaller items that still have value, but aren't really the things we'd auction."

Big-ticket items include a Dodge Caravan donated by Lake County board member Bonnie Carter. "It's used but in excellent condition," said Sobczak. "It's parked over by the Double Eagle restaurant."

Strang Funeral Home donated an 800 pound prize winning pig. Thelen donated a champion steer. Joanne and Dan Dugenski donated a 12-gauge shotgun. Bodycraft a gasoline power washer and Antioch Flooring donated $500 worth of flooring.

Other items include a print from Ducks Unlimited, rods and reels from CJ Smith Resort, a patio set from Kaydan Trophies, a Terry Redlin print from Hannah's Home

Accents, a new riding mower from Bob's Marine and a new outboard motor from Haling's Marine.

If that weren't enough, the Anderson, Schneider and Shepherd families from the Advertiser donated four tickets to a Packers game. Additionally, Ipsen Cleaners donated a glider swing and Cheryl Mateja a Jim Beam Montgomery Gentry black board.

All in all, several hundred items will be auctioned off to the highest bidders. Some of these items can be viewed at either the State Bank of The Lakes or the First National Bank-Employee Owned.

Candace Olsen of the Antioch parks and recreation department said swimming at the community pool is free on that day, and there will be children's games, complete with prizes, that begin at 1 p.m.

"I can't list all of the things we'll be auctioning off as this is the biggest week for donations to come in," Sobczak said.

Those wishing to make a last-minute donation should call Village Hall 847-395-1000, the Township Hall 847-395-3378 or Sobczak 847-395-1010.

Familiar faces fill 'new' employment slots

New employees within the Village of Antioch may well be longtime (if not lifelong) residents, making for a comfortable fit within the community.

Julie Ano has taken a position with the First National Bank-Employee Owned as a full-time personal banker. Her face will be familiar to many as she lives here with her family and has for many years.

Emmons School has hired Barbara O'Donnell as a first-grade teacher and Marianne Maliszewski as a four-grade teacher. Both are graduates of Antioch Community High School.

O'Donnell plays the organ at St. Peter Church and worked within the Grayslake school district. Maliszewski taught at Nippersink Middle School in Richmond.

Supt. Matt Tabar said he's glad to have both aboard as the district prepares for the new school year. "Both are a nice addition to our teaching staff," he said.

While on the subject of education, don't forget to support the Antioch Library Friends by attending its own version of the Antiques Road Show appraisal luncheon.

OUR TOWN

Friends, at 847-838-1359.

For his dedication to the Village of Antioch, an Autumn Blaze Maple tree is being dedicated in honor of Bob Lindblad at the William E. Brook Memorial Wetland Sanctuary on July 26 at 9 a.m.

His name was synonymous with the Lakes Region Historical Society, a museum for the entire Chain O Lakes area and not just Antioch, as preserving the local history was very important to him.

He was a WWII veteran and very active in VFW Post 4551, always making sure there was at least one scholarship competition per year for Scouts with the themes typically being about patriotism.

Additionally, Lindblad always helped with the Arbor Day festivities.

The sanctuary is located on Orchard east of Route 83 behind the stores that line the east side of Main Street.

If you have interesting information or anecdotes to submit for "Our Town" call staff reporter Julie Murphy at 847-223-8161, ext. 600 or e-mail, moorffe@ix.netcom.com

This third annual luncheon will be held at the Colony House Restaurant in Trevor, Wis. on Aug. 14. Deadline for registration is Aug. 4.

Certified appraiser Karl Gates will appraise one piece per guest attending. Appraisals can be given on a wide variety of antiques from jewelry and china to knick-knacks and other family heirlooms.

The cost is $20 for members of the Antioch Library Friends. The cost to non-members is $25. This price includes both the lunch and the appraisal of one item.

Registration forms are available at the library. It is also permissible to mail reservations, along with payment, to: Antioch Library Friends, 757 Main St., Antioch, IL 60002.

For more information, call Anne Schultz, secretary and vice president of Antioch Library

Sixth grade curriculum night is scheduled on Aug. 25 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Seventh and Eighth grade curriculum night will be held during the same hours on the following night, Aug. 26.

School resumes on Aug. 27.

Emmons takes names of this year's kindergartners

Emmons School District 33 is taking the names of the incoming kindergartners for the 2003-04 school year.

Children who are 5 years old on or before Sept. 1 will be eligible.

For more information, call 847-395-1105.

AUGS sports physicals held Aug. 20

Sports Physicals will be held August 20 from 4-7 p.m. at the Antioch Upper Grade School.

The cost is $20. Checks should be made out to AUGS, and a parent or guardian should accompany the student.

The physicals will be conducted on a walk in basis.

Early childhood screening

Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 offers early childhood developmental screening.

Parents with concerns should consider this. Developmental screening is a brief series of activities and observations designed to identify children who may have a potential problem that requires further assessment.

Screening is available to children between the ages of 3-5 years old and who have not yet entered kindergarten within District 34. To schedule an appointment, call the special education office at 847-838-8422.

and the interview process is complete. He said enough cannabis and other controlled substances were found in Camphouse's walk-in closet that he would be charged with class X felony charges that would carry a six- to 30-year sentence if he were convicted.

"This is a residential area and this will not be tolerated," said Fagan.

No charges will be filed against the parents.

Fagan said, "They didn't know anything about what was going on. He had his own private area and locked his closet. They just didn't know."

According to police, Camphouse likely paid about $1,800 per pound for the cannabis.

"We just calculated that the street value would be $67,056," said VanDien. "We got a lot of drugs off the street."

Deputy Chief Michael Blazincic of the Lake County Sheriff's Office said the arrest was demonstrative of what can be accomplished when law enforcement agencies work together. "This is a perfect example of how we can work for the common good," he said.

MAYOR

a position shouldn't be allowed to apply?" he asked. "Someday it could be you or it could be me or it could be anybody on this board."

Trustee Barbara Porch clarified by analogy, noting that it was only that and not meant to try and embarrass anyone. "If former police chief Charlie Watkins were to become a trustee, and if current Chief Chuck Fagan were to retire, the board would be unable to consider Watkins for a period of three years after him leaving office," she said.

Trustee Dorothy Larson was quick to second the motion for approval made by Turner and said she thought it was important for the board to accept the resolution. "It needs to be clear that we aren't setting things up for ourselves for after we leave office," she said during a break in the meeting.

The resolution was approved four to two, with Porch and Hanson casting votes against it.

Attorney Bob Long said that an ordinance would have to be written for the measure to have enough teeth to be enforceable.

AMENDMENTS

for the purchase of property to be used as fields and that this was part of its contribution to the center.

"As aid, I did the paperwork," she said. "The way I understood it was that Lake Villa (Township) would have priority to use the fields, the way it will happen with the amendment. It's unfortunate it wasn't conveyed this way (in the formal, written agreement). The ball fields are for use by everyone, but Lake Villa has the first option."

She added that former representative Tim Osmond had recommended the three entities work together.

Lake Villa Township Supervisor Dan Venturi said, "I wasn't supervisor when the agreement was drafted, but Lake Villa entered the agreement because we needed ball fields. It's nice that we get to share the community room, but that wasn't our need."

Venturi said it was his feeling that everyone had always been on the same page but that the agreement was "silent" about who uses what within both the building and the fields.

In addition to $250,000 of Illinois First grant money, Lake Villa Township brought an additional $400,000 to the project.

All three entities must approve the amendments to the agreement for them to become binding. Antioch Township is the last of the three to formerly consider the amendments. Lake Villa approved them prior to the high school board's approval.

The document approved by the high school district gives priority to the district during the hours school is session followed by Lake Villa Township youth organizations and Antioch Township youth organizations. Second priority goes to the high school district and third priority to the general public on a first-come-first-served basis.

Antioch Township Supervisor Steve Smouse said the item would be on the agenda for the Aug. 7 meeting to be held at the Antioch Lake Villa Township Center at 7:30 p.m.

"I expect this will be approved because it follows all of the initial guidelines of what had been established verbally," he said.

Board of education member Dave Dziki cast the only dissenting vote for Community High School District 117.

District 117 to change high school name

Antioch Community High School District 117 is dropping Antioch from its name to become Community High School District 117.

"The district serves three villages: Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst," said Supt. Dennis Hockney. "Additionally, the second high school, Lakes Community High School, is actually in Lake Villa."

Board members voted unanimously in favor of the change.

"This has been sent to the regional office and from there it will go to the state board of education," said Hockney. "This is similar to the name changes that have happened in places like Libertyville and is a standard course of action."

Ken Neumann along with Chris Lebling of Neumann Homes hand over the keys to a fully equipped 2003 Ford Expedition to Antioch Police Chief Chuck Fagan. Mayor Taso Maravelas along with trustees Larry Hanson, Scott Pierce (and daughter) and Dorothy Larson flank Fagan as he accepts Neumann's donation to the police department.

Neumann donates Expedition to PD

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

In a gesture of doing right by the Village of Antioch, Ken Neumann of Neumann Homes donated a fully equipped 2003 Ford Expedition to the Antioch Police Department during the Taste of Summer festivities.

"We're very appreciative," said Chief Chuck Fagan. "Mr. Neumann realizes his neighborhoods are going to impact the city, and he was very generous in making this donation to us."

Fagan said the village has never had a four-wheel drive vehicle, and that getting one is long overdue.

"With the type of weather we have here, it's important to have something that could make it through what might otherwise be an impassable road," he said. "Emergencies don't wait for things to clear up."

The SUV (sport utility vehicle) came to the police department fully equipped and ready for police work complete with an on-board camera system that automatically activates when the pursuit lights are in use.

"The one thing that was not put in it was a defibrillator, but it was unnecessary because of the State Bank of The Lakes donation," Fagan said.

He added that the shift commander on all three shifts of duty would use the vehicle.

"This is wonderful because it leaves our department more money for things like training and equipment," said Fagan. "Over the past couple of months, everyone has been trained on the defibrillators."

Lt. Ron Roth said the department could confirm that one life had been saved because defibrillators are now in every squad car.

Fagan said, "The village is just getting back into the black. Everyone understood the circumstances, but the officers have been doing without for a long time. Now we've been able to get three new squad cars."

POLICE BEAT

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ANTIOCH

DUI/accident

Thomas P. McCarville, 44, of 25211 Claridan, Antioch, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on July 16, at 9:08 p.m. at the intersection of North and Main streets.

An officer was dispatched to the area for a possible DUI. The complainant said McCarville pulled into the White Hen parking lot and struck a concrete barrier.

The vehicle was in drive and running as the officer approached, and McCarville reportedly had an open can of beer in his hand. When his driver's license was requested, McCarville tried to hide the can of beer.

He was unable to find his driver's license and the officer had to hold his arm for him to maintain balance when field sobriety testing was requested. McCarville failed all tests.

A portable breath test indicated that McCarville's blood alcohol concentration was .27. He was arrested for DUI. A check through LEADS/NCIC/SOS came back with information that his driver's license was suspended.

McCarville was issued citations for DUI and failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident. He refused further chemical testing at the station and was issued additional citations for driving while suspended, illegal transportation of alcohol and having no insurance.

He was released on a personal recognizance bond pending his Aug. 12 court date.

No valid driver's license

John Wolf, 36, of 42116 N. Lakeview Drive, Antioch, was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license on July 13 at 10:13 a.m. at the intersection of Longview Drive and Greenbrier.

Wolf was locked traveling 50 mph in a 35-mph zone. He told police he hadn't had a driver's license "in years." Afterwards, a check through LEADS came back with photo identification response only.

Wolf was arrested and issued citations for speeding, operating an uninsured vehicle, no valid driver's license and for having an obstructed front windshield. He was released on personal recognizance pending his Aug. 13 court date.

Suspended driver's license

James D. Caughel, 26, of 422 Donin Drive, Antioch was arrested for driving while suspended on July 11 at 11:54 p.m. on Route 83 at Poplar.

The arresting officer had prior knowledge that Caughel's driver's license was suspended and stopped him. A check through LEADS/SOS confirmed this.

Caughel was arrested and issued citations for having suspended registration and driving while suspended. He was released on personal recognizance pending court.

LINDENHURST

Consumption of alcohol by a minor

Melissa M. Behm, 18, of 36247 Park drive, Gurnee, and her passenger, David J. Loeffler, 19, of 36320 Douglas Terrace, Gurnee, were arrested by Lindenhurst Police on July 12, at 3:03 a.m., while driving southbound on Route 45 near Sand Lake Road. Police observed Behm turn left onto Hutchins road in front of the squad car, causing the officer to slam on the brakes. The driver failed four of four field sobriety tests and a breath test yielded a result of .082 BAC.

Behm and Loeffler were both charged with consumption of alcohol by a minor. A second passenger in the car was over 21, and was not charged. Behm was also charged with improper turning. Each arrestee was released on a $75 I-bond, pending an appearance in Grayslake Branch III court, on Aug. 6, at 10:30 a.m.

FridayFest in full swing

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

FridayFest is rocking in full swing with diverse musical entertainment scheduled for the remainder of the summer.

The Tom Carey Band will offer a tribute to Jimmy Buffett on July 25. The Lakes Area Swing Band will bring a big band sound to the stage on Aug. 1.

Crows Feet will play contemporary rock music on Aug. 8 followed by the sounds of the '50s and '60s with Grease on Aug. 15.

Country Storm will boom out rocking country tunes on Aug. 22 and the Lakes Area Community Band will close out festivities on Aug. 29.

All of the bands take the stage at 7:30 p.m. and play until 9 p.m.

Prior to the concert, various merchants will offer special promotions throughout the day. Most stores open by 10 a.m.

Back on Skidmore, the events officially begin at 3 p.m. with the opening of the farmers' market that will carry fresh fruits and vegetables, baked goods, flowers, plants and herbs as well as jams and jellies.

Horton said, "I'm very excited about a lot of things, but one of them is that we have more vendors for the farmers' market this year and we have allowed a couple of crafters as well."

The children's tent and toy exchange will run from 5-7 p.m. Each week, there will be different activities such as story time and free crafts. Additionally, there will be guided tours of the wetlands as well as a bike stunt performance and dance performances.

New this year is the opportunity to win one of three gift baskets valued at over $600. Antioch resident Mary Laschinski one the first gift basket from this special competition sponsored by Antioch's department of special events.

Billie Horton, special events coordinator, said, "The prizes were so big and numerous that the basket was overflowing. We had to carry some of the items in the red wagon."

Participating merchants ponied up a retail gift valued at $25 or more, bringing the basket's value over $650. All Laschinski had to do to win was to visit all of the merchants listed and have them mark her flyer.

The next opportunity for someone to win a basket is Friday, July 25 and then again on Aug. 29

"I expect we'll have a more participants the second time around," said Horton.

Entry forms are available at the office of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry at 882 Main St. Each square of the listed participating merchants must be stamped. Forms can be returned to either the chamber office or to one of the merchants.

For more FridayFest information, call the office of special events at 847-395-6342.

Parks offers horseback riding to volleyball

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch's parks and recreation department isn't winding down with the approach of August. It has a full slate of offerings for children and adults.

A new session of horseback riding begins on July 30. Lessons are taught at Windance Acres in Lake Villa through the department in either English or western disciplines.

An indoor arena is available for days when the weather doesn't cooperate.

Proper attire such as long pants, boots or shoes with a heel and riding helmet is required. Helmets are available upon request.

In synch with Picasso's full range of artistic endeavors, Promising Picassos is offering a new sculpture class Aug. 5-7 from 3:30-5 p.m. at the parks office.

The class is geared toward children 6-13 years old.

Of the new class, director Laurie Stahl said, "We like to keep the programs the parks department offers fresh. It keeps things more interesting for everyone."

For those who would rather kick it up outside, a four-day volleyball camp will be offered Aug. 11-14 from 9-11:30 a.m. at Williams Park volleyball court.

The camp will be taught by Volleyball Professionals, a division of Sports Endeavors, Inc., and is geared for players between grades 2-8.

"The camp is designed to concentrate on the fundamentals of passing, setting, spiking, serving and the overall play of the game," said Stahl. "The latest drills and teaching techniques will be used to build your skills to the next level."

Additionally, participants will receive a "Volleyball Pro" evaluation, a six-point test certificate and a camp T shirt.

Lisa Herout and Ann Krumpos will be instructing a new basket weaving class through the Antioch parks and recreation department on Thursday, Aug. 28 from 6:30-9 p.m. A "potluck casserole basket" is the evening's project.

On-going classes are offered in tennis and Shotokan Karate.

For more information, call the parks office at 847-395-2160. The office is located at 806 Holbek, across from the fire station and the Senior Center off of Orchard.

Emmons youth hoops camp a real 'slice'

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

The Antioch Pizza Shop provided perhaps the biggest highlight at the conclusion of the Emmons Grade School youth girl's hoops camp-pizza! And lot's of it.

That was the unanimous answer when asked what was the favorite part of the two-week camp. But for twenty-four younger female hoopsters going into grades 5-8 at Emmons, there was a little more to it than than.

Eighth-grader-to-be Kaitlyn Fox particularly liked the drills.

"The 3-man weave was good. It got you to practice your passing, speed and shooting," said Fox, who will start her third season playing for Emmon's this winter. She primarily plays in the post. "It's satisfying though because the older players get to help the younger one's. We got a lot of practice time to go over the basics."

For the record, the 3-man weave consists of this: one player is in the middle and surrounded by two other players. The two players on the outside continuously pass to each other while all three progresses down the court. The last one of the two that receives the ball, inside the 3-point line takes the ball in for a lay-up. The one that shoots the lay-up at the end each time down moves to defense on the next trip.

Another drill the girls really liked was a 30-second timing drill, where they campers shoot the ball from each side under the basket while accumulating points.

"It really helps with your form," said incoming sixth-grader Alisa Walizer, who is in her first year of playing the sport. "I also like the scrimmages and being with all of my friends."

Natalie Gonzalez, an incoming sixth-grader, liked the drills you can practice at home.

"Just lying on the couch, you can practice your shooting form by just tossing the ball in the air," she said.

Incoming fifth-grader Nicole Kelly particularly liked the scrimmage against the eighth-grade team.

"The scrimmages are cool because you can show off what you learned during the camp," said Kelly. "Plus, the eighth-graders are bigger and push you around. So we learned to push them back."

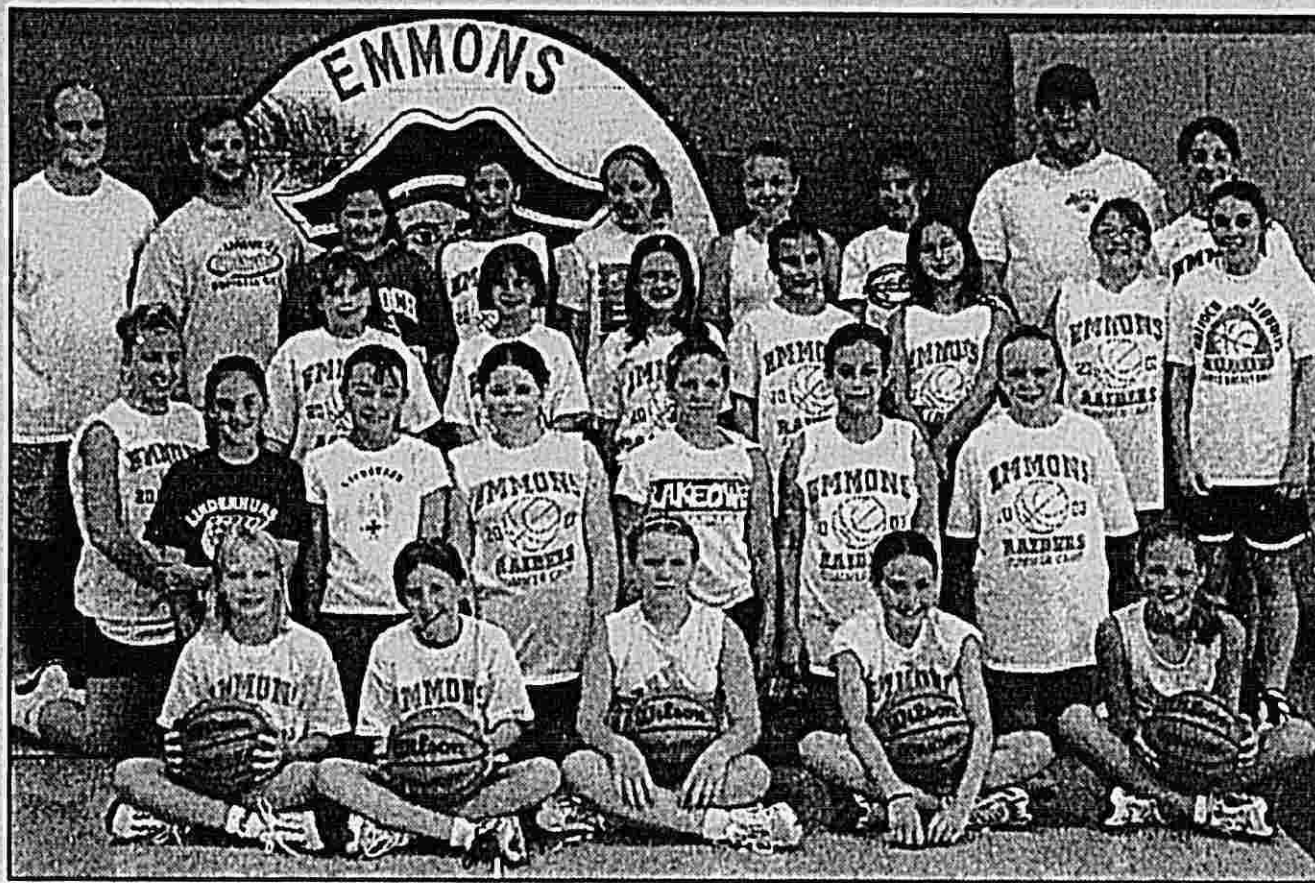

The camp was headed by Dan Wiegel, who was assisted by Brian Rheberg and Brian Dembinski. Rich Murphy and Wiegel switch on and off running the seventh- and eighth-grade girls teams at Emmons, while Rheberg runs the sixth-grade team.

"We had a great turnout," said Dembinski. "It was nice to have the three high school girls here. They are real role models for the younger girls."

"Our basic approach was to work on the fundamentals, from passing to shooting to dribbling," said Wiegel. "We had a bunch of drills to to help keep the girls interested. I think things worked out well with everything."

Emmons Grade School in Antioch had quite a turnout for its two week youth girl's basketball camp. Campers included (in no order) Kaitlyn Fox, Emily McCarthy, Katie Smiley, Veronica Leonard, Brittany Hartl, Erin Poss, Quinn Mengyan, Alisa Walizer, Megan Petty, Ashley Waschow, Sarah Balay, Natalie Gonzalez, Marion Knieling, Lucinda Bors, Bekah Simpson, Nicole Kelly, Lauren Tiffany, Mallory Fracek, Samantha Frank, Cortney McCarthy, Jaime Trischan, Rachel Mohr, Amber Dalgaard and Rachel Kurzega. Antioch High School players Meryl Weber, an incoming freshman, and sophomores-to-be Ashley Fain and Megan McCarthy also helped out with the camp. Instructors included Brian Rheberg, Dan Wiegel and Brian Dembinski. Photo by Steve Young

We want to keep building on this and get some excitement going where basketball at Emmons is concerned."

Those high school players included Antioch grad Starla Williams, heading to Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis this fall. She was joined by Antioch High players, incoming sophomore Megan McCarthy and Ashley Fain, and incoming freshman Meryl Weber.

Indians look to regain focus in time for St. Louis

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Pitching, pitching, pitching.

The one thing that can make or break a baseball team, whatever the level.

And one guy who can attest to that is Kenosha Indians first-year skipper Tom Spino, a former pitcher for the Chicago Cubs from 1977-82.

"We're hurting for pitching—that's for sure," said Spino while watching his 18- and-under Indians get hammered by Naperville at Nash Park in Kenosha in the last regular-season summer game. "Today, we were missing some of our guys. We just wanted to get all of the guys some playing time, move them around a little."

The Indians limp into the St. Louis area for the North American Federation Baseball

National series the weekend of July 25-28. The team, with a collection of numerous standout players from these parts, has sported a 17-15 record this summer. That includes three second-place finishes and one third-place effort in tournament action.

But as they head to the NABF series, there are some question marks.

Will the team's main ace in Mundelein grad Clay Kovac be ready for the series? Kovac, who also plays for his high school summer team, like many of the other Indians do, is resting a sore shoulder.

Spino thinks he'll be ready.

"We just want them (all of our pitchers) to get some rest in preparation for the tournament," the coach said. "I think we'll be in good shape, once we get everyone back into their regular positions."

Senior-to-be Jake Wasechek of Hamilton

High School near Milwaukee is one of the other weapons on the hill for the Indians.

"He's went down a few games ago with a bad shoulder too," said Spino. "Again, hopefully a little rest the last few days will give our pitchers some time to heal."

Kovac is also one of the team's leading hitters with a .350 average.

Stevenson grad Joey Bonadonna, the Indians regular shortstop, was also absent for the finale against the Reds. He'll return for the NABF series. Senior-to-be Adam Spalding from Waterford High School in Wisconsin is batting just over .300, while Dan Spino, son of the coach and a senior-to-be at Warren Township, is batting at a .290 clip.

As for the game at Nash, Antioch graduate Scott Coles, who just returned from a stint playing in Holland, and John Anderson and Jesse Cass, both senior-to-be at Warren, all saw time on the hill. Anderson was brought up from the Indians 16-year-old team for pitching purposes.

As for the offense, it was stagnant at times. It's obviously going to be something the Indians will need more of if they want to advance in the NABF series.

Antioch product Tom Callanan scored a run, Mundelein's Kyle Frischman smacked an RBI triple to score Spalding, and Coles showed his good eye in drawing two walks. He also scored a run on Warren senior-to-be Scott Shaw's sacrifice fly. Dan Spino also had an RBI triple, scoring Coles. Cass also had a double and Mundelein's Brad Sashko, heading to Illinois State this fall, added a sixth-inning base-knock.

Good news for Tom Spino though is the Indians only lose six guys heading into next year. But the coach will still be doing his homework come this fall.

With The College of Lake County hosting a fall baseball league starting in September, Spino will have a great chance to evaluate some prospective Indians players for the 2004 summer campaign.

He took over the Indians 18- and-under team after being approached by Indians founder and program director Lee Lundstrom approached him last spring.

"I was watching my son (Dan) play in a game for Warren last spring. He was looking for guys to play for the Indians and one thing led to another," Tom Spino recalled. "(Former coach) Paul Gagliardi had opened a second law practice in Kenosha and Lee needed someone to run the 18- and-under team."

Condell to host student-trainer workshop

By ROB BACKUS
Lakeland Correspondent

They're an invaluable part of any school's athletic department and they rarely receive deserved credit because their work is largely done behind the scenes.

But without student athletic trainers around to help out the official athletic trainers, little would get done.

With that in mind, Condell Medical Center will conduct a student athletic trainer workshop at Vernon Hills High School from July 28-August 1.

"No certified trainer could survive without student athletic trainers," said Condell Director of Sports Medicine Larry Scire.

The training involved will teach the participants to prevent, prepare for and respond to sports-related injuries both on and off the field of play.

For a $60 fee, students will be trained in preventative taping techniques, injury care, and overall, the treatment of sports-related injuries.

The fee also included certification in adult and child CPR as well as sports safety training.

"Students will sit in classes, learning skills, anatomy, physiology and how to be better trainers," Scire said. "They learn things that all licensed trainers know."

"A lot of these kids are deciding on a career and it can help some of them plot a course for their life."

Assisting Scire will be Carmel Athletic Trainer Dan Henrichs, Vernon Hills Athletic Trainer Jim Schiltz and Mundelein Athletic Trainer Mike Gedville.

About 20 people attended last year's workshop, which has been running for seven years and is the only workshop of its kind in Lake County.

"Having 20 kids is a nice, comfortable size," Scire said. "We expect about that much this year."

For more information, contact the Condell Sports Medicine Department at 847-890-5780.

Four one goal—fun

H's, 4-H Club teaches values that last a lifetime

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

Every year at the Lake County Fair some people learn about the 4-H club for the first time as youth from all over the county show off their livestock.

4-H is the youth education branch of the Cooperative Extension Service, a program of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Each state and county has access to a County Extension office for both youth and adult programs.

And for the Beelow family of Fremont Township on Route 60—4-H is a family affair.

"4-H is a wonderful organization," said Karen Beelow, wife of Duane Beelow, whose family has been farming in Lake County for over 100 years. "The kids learn so much," she added.

The 4-Hs stand for Head: thinking critically and solving problems. Heart: respecting self, others and the environment. Hands: preparing for a career serving others. And Health: choosing healthy lifestyles and managing change and challenges.

The 4-H motto is "To make the best—better."

And the 4-H pledge is "I pledge my head to clearer thinking; my heart to greater loyalty; my hands to larger service and my health to better living for my club, my community, my country and my world."

The Beelow's daughter, Brea, 12, is the vice president of a 4-H club called "All/In/Ag" which consists of over 20 kids.

At the Lake County Fair last year one of her drawings was selected to be entered in the Illinois State Fair where she won a "Superior" which is the highest award given.

"This year we are going down state with our pigs and I'm hoping one of my art works is selected to go down state, too," said Brea.

Twelve-year-old Brea Beelow relaxes with one of her 4-H pigs, Baby Blue, during the Lake County Fair in Grayslake. The Beelow family, who live in Fremont Township, has been farming in Lake County for close to 100 years.— Photo by Sandy Bressner

Her mother added, "It was a wonderful experience to go downstate. The whole family went and when Brea won it made it even more special."

Brea's younger brother, Lukas, 8, goes to all the club meetings and will be a full-fledged 4-H member on his birthday on Oct. 4.

"It's cool living on a farm," said Lukas. "It's not normal but it's fun. My friends always want to know when we are going to bring more animals to school."

Lukas added that in addition to raising pigs, he has cows, chickens and turkeys on the family's 80-acre farm.

It is interesting to note that Round

Lake Police Officer Mike Bock's son is the president of the 4-H club that Brea belongs to.

"I will be competing against Robbie this year," said Brea.

In last years competition, Bock was honored as the "Reserve Grand Champion" in the Horse barrel racing competition and he won the "Judges Choice" award in the horse show and two first place blue ribbons for a couple of pigs he had raised.

According to the 4-H club, all partners are working across the country to assist youth in developing knowledge, skills and attitudes that will enable them to become productive and contributing members of society.

4-H impacts youth from all ethnic, racial, and socio-economic backgrounds who live in rural, suburban and urban communities.

4-H is one of the largest youth organizations in the country with more than 6.8 million participants and more than 610,595 youth and adult volunteers working directly and indirectly with youth. Universally recognized by its four-leaf clover emblem, 4-H serves youth through a variety of methods including organized clubs, school-enrichment groups, special interest groups, individual study programs, camps, school-age child care programs, and instructional television programs. To date, more than 45 million people are 4-H alumni.

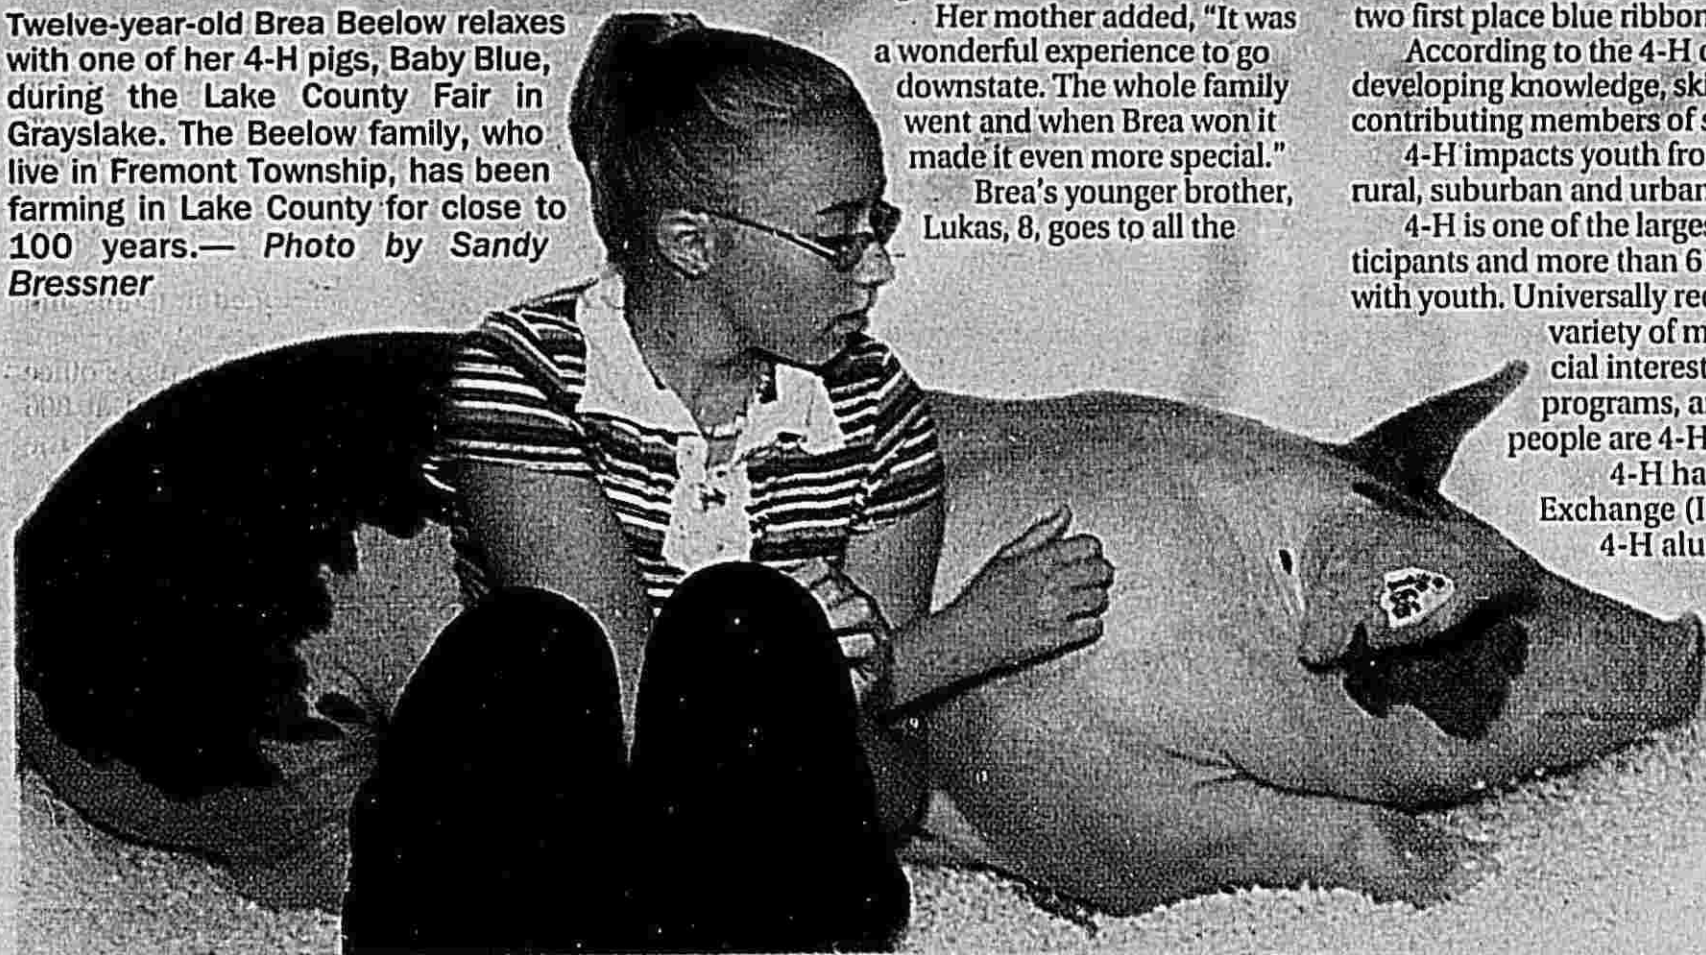

4-H has spread internationally through the International 4-H Youth Exchange (IFYE) program. This is an in-depth learning experience in which 4-H alumni and other young adults live with host families in other countries to increase global awareness, develop independent study interests, and improve language skills. Programs vary from country to country, with some emphasizing an agricultural work experience, volunteering at an adult training center, or working with a local youth development program similar to 4-H.

Youth can participate in more than 110 program areas, including: community service, communications, arts, consumer and family sciences, environmental education, earth sciences, healthy lifestyle education, leadership, plants, animals, science and technology.

Woodstock Mozart festival begins 17th season

The Woodstock Mozart Festival's 3-weekend 17th season opens on Friday evening, Aug. 1 and continues through Saturday, Aug. 16 at the Woodstock Opera House in Woodstock.

The opening weekend's orchestral concerts on Friday and Saturday evenings August 1-2 will begin at 8 p.m. Each will be preceded at 7 p.m. with an artist and conductor introduction featuring harpist Sarah Bullen and conductor Toby Hoffman. Bullen's performance of Marcel Grandjany's "Variations on a Theme of Haydn" will be followed by a discussion of the evening's selections by Hoffman.

On August 8-9, conductor Robert Bernhardt will lead the Festival orchestra in popular selections by Mozart and one of his most ardent admirers, Peter Illyich Tchaikovsky. Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik, K. 525" will open the evening's program, followed by the piano "Concerto No. 12" to be performed by pianist. Tchaikovsky's "Serenade for Strings, Op. 48" will be the final selection.

Three concerts are scheduled during the weekend of August 15-16: Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m., and a Saturday afternoon, August 16, 4 p.m. Chamber Music concert. The Festival's artistic advisor and violin soloist, Mark Peskanov, will play and conduct the evening concerts with programming that will feature trumpeter Matthew Lee, flutist Robin Fellows and oboist Deborah Stevenson.

During the Saturday afternoon chamber music concert, Mr. Peskanov will be joined in Mozart's "Piano and Violin Sonata" by the Festival's general director Anita Whalen as pianist; and in Mozart's "Viola Quintet" by orchestra musicians.

Mozart Festival series subscriptions for all three evening concerts are available through the Woodstock Opera House Box office at $96 or $120. Single tickets are $42, $34 and $20. Tickets for the 4 p.m. Saturday, August 10 Chamber Music concert are $20 ($18 for Mozart Festival subscribers). Discounts are available for group reservations on Friday evenings and for the Chamber Music concert.

Orders for all tickets may be made with Visa and Mastercard by calling 815-338-5300 or by writing to the Woodstock Opera House, 121 Van Buren Street, Woodstock, Ill. 60098.

In addition to its series of concerts at the Woodstock Opera House, the Woodstock Mozart Festival will also sponsor a free concert on the Woodstock Town Square on Wednesday evening, August 6 at 7:30 p.m. A wind octet from the orchestra, Amadeus Harmonie, will present an evening of lighter Mozart classics and other outdoor musical selections.

All Friday and Saturday evening concerts will begin at 8 p.m. The pre-concert musical introductions during the first and second weekends of the Festival begin at 7 p.m. Because of the 4 p.m. chamber music performance on August 16, there will be no pre-concert events during the final weekend of the Festival.

Swedish author's book released July 1

The past two weeks have been hectic but productive for Vernon A. Holmes, author of "America's Backdoor."

Holmes, formerly of Antioch, held two book signings. The first was in Rockford's Swedish Museum "Erlander House" for their Swedish Mid-Summer festival.

The second at Lindstrom, Minnesota (America's Little Sweden), for its Karl Oskar Days.

Holmes was also invited to Duluth's Mayor Gary Doty's office. Mayor Doty was hosting a dinner for the Mayor of Vaxjo, Sweden, which is Duluth's sister city, and during this ceremony an autographed copy of "America's Backdoor" was presented to the Vaxjo mayor.

Laura Bush, America's Librarian, received her requested autographed copy on June 24. The East Central Regional Library, Lindstrom Branch has an autographed book and Holmes hopes for an invitation to hold a children's reading in the near future at Lindstrom.

Holmes was the featured guest on Radio Sweden broadcast from Stockholm and also a PBS broadcast special on North Dakota Public Radio called "Here and Now." Holmes was the guest on Duluth's Channel 3 (KDLH) television July 15, hosted by Elizabeth Reis.

"America's Backdoor," has been featured in the biweekly publication of the "Visitor Magazine." This magazine can be found at Bookseller and Coffee House, Main Street Lindstrom and Lindstrom's Main Street Shops.

Thousands of readers are following the adventures of seven-year-old Erik Alfred Holm in 1886 Sweden, as he hunts, traps, and becomes the hunted. Follow the adventures of Erik in each issue of the "Science Route Visitor." "Not since Daniel Boone and Davy Crockett has a true life adventure for children been told," and adults can't put it down.

Shakespeare on the Green opens

William Shakespeare's comedy "Two Gentlemen of Verona" will be the featured production of this year's Shakespeare on the Green in Lake Forest. The outdoor performances open Friday, July 25 and run through August 10, on the front lawn of the Barat Campus of DePaul University (formerly Barat College), 700 E. Westleigh Road in Lake Forest. Performances are Thursday through Sundays and admission is free. The grounds open at 6 p.m. for picnicking and the curtain rises at 8 p.m.

Save-A-Pet to host celebration

Save-A-Pet, a not-for-profit, no-kill animal shelter, located at 31664 N. Fairfield Road in Grayslake, is hosting its 31st Annual Anniversary/Reunion Celebration on Saturday, August 2. This year's theme is Homeward Bound.

The festivities will begin at 11 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.. Food will be available at the grill starting at 11:30 a.m. (a donation would be much appreciated by the animals). At 2 p.m., there will be a blessing of the animals. Please ensure your dog is on a leash, and cat lover's, for your pets safety, we would urge you to bring a picture of your cat to be blessed, however if you do bring a cat, please make sure it is in a carrier. Registration for the Pet Parade begins at 2:30, and will begin promptly at 3 p.m. A Bake Sale will be held in the lobby from 11 - 4.

Save-A-Pet's mission is to provide the animals shelter indefinitely and to never euthanize, except in cases of terminal illness, unrelievable pain and suffering or dangerous and irreversible behavior problems. Save-A-Pet strives to create an environment which enhances both awareness of and support for the humane treatment of animals.

NATURE

Volo Bog events

Fridays July 25 and August 1, 7 p.m.- 9p.m. Join Volo Bog Naturalist Stacy Iwanicki and personally meet these fascinating mammals of the evening sky. The program begins at Volo Bog's Visitor Center in Ingleside with a slide show introduction and discussion. Participants will then visit Illinois' largest known nursery colony of little brown bats. From the comfort of their lawn chair's, the group will watch the emergence of the colony. Ages 7 and up are welcome.

Saturday July 26, 12:30-2 p.m. Dr. Liane Cochran-Stallira of St. Xavier University will speak at Volo Bog State Natural Area about the weird world inside carnivorous plants. Through slides, live greenhouse plants and a walk along Volo Bog's boardwalk a microscopic world that's better than science fiction will be revealed. Ages 7 and up are welcome to attend. For more information and to make reservations for both events call 815-344-1294.

Summer wildflower walk

Take a Walk on the Wildflower Side this summer. Join a Lake County Forest Preserve naturalist on Saturday, July 26 at Independence Grove Forest Preserve and on Saturday, August 30 at Old School Forest Preserve. Both programs are offered from 1:30-3:30 p.m.

Walkers will learn about a variety of native wildflowers in bloom this summer and discover the superstition, healing, folklore and survival they hold. The program is open to adults and families with children ten years and older. The cost is $7 ($5 for Lake County residents). Registration and prepayment are required.

Independence Grove Forest Preserve is located on Buckley Road (Rte. 137), just east of Milwaukee Avenue (Rte. 21) and west of the I-94 tollway near Libertyville. Old School Forest Preserve is located on St. Mary's Road, just south of Route 176 and north of Townline Road (Rte. 60) near Libertyville.

For more information or to register, call the Lake County Forest Preserves at 847-968-3321 or visit the web site at www.LCFPD.org.

KIDS STUFF

The ice cream challenge

Kids are invited to be a part of ice cream history by showing off their own flavor creations. The challenge for young ice cream experts...to dream up new flavor ideas that pay tribute to the outstanding qualities of their home state. For instance, Edy's Ice Cream's famed taste tester and ice cream creator, John Harrison has pondered up California Cheesecake-cheesecake ice cream with fault lines of strawberry swirls, almond slivers and chocolate fragments.

Harrison will be in Chicago on Tuesday, August 5 and Wednesday, August 6 to offer local ice cream lovers a unique opportunity to share why Illinois is the "cream of the crop" and should be represented in a new ice cream flavor. At the end of the summer John will invite the top pint-sized inventors from across the country to Edy's Ice Cream Factory to participate in "A Scoop of the USA Ice Cream Taste Off" where each child will create their one-of-a-kind flavors so John can choose the coolest flavor in the U.S.A. For more information call 510-601-4211 or visit the web site at kagoelle@edy.com

Children's theater workshop

Calling all kids grades one through six who are interested in theatre. Sharon Price of Grayslake who is a grade school teacher and an active PM&L member for a two day children's theatre workshop Saturday August 9, 1-3 p.m. and Saturday August 16, 11 a.m.-1 p.m. at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch. The workshop will include theatre games, improvisation, introduction to the theatre as well as preparation for a Readers' Theatre performance on Sunday August 17, 2:30 p.m. Students must attend both workshops to participate in the Readers' Theatre performance. To register call Sharon Price at 847-548-8232 by August 1.

The Rocky Horror Show

Stage Two produces "The Rocky Horror Show" by Richard O'Brien at the Estonian House, Estonian Lane in Lincolnshire. Performances are Fridays 8 p.m. and Saturdays 8 and 11 p.m. now through August 9.

For the 8 p.m. performances tickets are $18 general public and $14 students, seniors and groups. For the 11 p.m. show tickets are $22 general public and $18 seniors, students and groups. For tickets call 847-432-7469 or online at www.stagetwortheatre.com.

VOLUNTEER

Make a difference

The Lake County Haven, a transitional shelter for homeless women and children, is seeking members for the Women's Auxiliary. Just a few hours each month for fundraising and client events can help end homelessness one family at a time. Computer instructors, job skills counselors and office volunteers are also needed. Groups who wish to join can conduct drives for wish list items or organize a work day at the shelter. To get started, contact Mary Bird-Parks, at 847-680-1870 to request a volunteer packet.

'Twilight Jazz' returns

Twilight Jazz" returns to the Anderson Arts Center, 121 66th Street in Kenosha Wis. on Thursday July 31. The outdoor patio performance is sponsored by AM Community Credit Union. Additional support is provided by the Kenosha Labor Paper. The performance will be presented from 7-9 p.m. Admission is free...just remember to bring your own lawn chair. In case of inclement weather, the performance will be moved inside the Anderson Arts Center.

The Dave Braun Trio features Dave Braun on guitar, Paula Braun on bass and Peter Braun on drums. Dave Braun received his BA-Music from University of Wisconsin- Parkside and went on to study jazz guitar with masters Joe Pass and Barney Kessel. He formed his own trio in 1980 and has played throughout the Midwest. Paula Braun is a music teacher at The Prairie School. She is the principal flutist with the Kenosha Pops Band and has played flute and piccolo with the Kenosha Symphony. Peter Braun is a 2002 graduate of Case High School where he was class valedictorian. He recently completed his first year at UW-Madison and is a student of Mark Pulice. In addition, Peter plays drums for the rock group Meadowsweet.

Performing as a special guest with the Dave Braun Trio on July 31 at the Anderson Arts Center will be Steve Singer on vocals. He has been performing in southeastern Wisconsin for over 20 years. Steve Singer brings his "unique vocal style which is reminiscent of Kenny Rankin."

For more information about the "Twilight Jazz" series at the Anderson Arts Center, call 262-653-0481 or go to www.kemper-center.com and click on Anderson Arts Center.

THERE'S JUST ONE HOSPITAL

in Lake County with such a clear picture OF THE PROPER TREATMENT.

Neuroradiologist Bradley Strimling, MD,
in the Interventional Radiology suite at Lake Forest Hospital.

At Lake Forest Hospital, we believe that having the clearest possible picture of the problem is key to devising the best treatment. That's why our radiology services are so advanced.

Our new $2-million MRI—state-of-the-art technology—is showing us things physicians hadn't seen before. It's improving the diagnosis of injury and disease in virtually every part of the body, and leading the way to newly sophisticated but minimally invasive treatments. Such as vertebroplasty, an advanced technique for relieving back pain that's unresponsive to other therapies. Better yet, our patients' MRI examinations now take less time and are more comfortable. Call 847.535.6300 for further information.

In August we finally get a break from the over-the-top computer generated images of recent action movies of the summer.

August 1

Gigli: This gangster comedy brings the real-life romance of Ben Affleck and Jennifer Lopez to the big screen. The mob asks him to kidnap the mentally challenged brother of a federal prosecutor and she is brought in to help. Surprise, things don't go as planned.

American Wedding: The final installment of the "American Pie" series has Jason Biggs and Alyson Hannigan getting married. A big wedding with only two weeks to plan is bound to bring some laughs, especially when Eugene Levy is involved.

Opening This Week

Lara Croft Tomb Raider: The Cradle of Life: With the first "Tomb Raider" clocking what was then a blockbuster opening weekend of $47.7M, and ending up with a worldwide box office of almost $300M, it will be interesting to see what happens with this one. We have entered a phase of "one night stands," as films open huge ($60-80M or more), only to see a large fall off the next weekend. It's sort of a blockbuster of the week, not the summer.

The sequel takes us on a worldwide tour of Hong Kong, Kenya, Tanzania, Greece and Wales as Lara Croft tries to save the world from unspeakable evil as she jet skis, motorcycles, rides horses, and more.

Jolie likes to do a lot of her stunts and we expect that to counterbalance some of the over the top CGI action present in the original film, and probably here as well.

George liked the first film but felt it was top-heavy (pun intended) with eye-candy in skintight suits with push up bras. Oops...are we getting confused with "Full Throttle"? Once may have been enough, but with Djimon Hounsou joining Angelina Jolie for her greatest challenges yet, we're anxious to see the sequel.

Spy Kids 3-D: Game Over 1/2: In this third chapter of "Spy Kids," siblings Daryl Sabara and Alexa Vega find themselves trapped in a virtual reality video game designed by sinister toy maker Sylvester Stallone. Sounds like big fun, as Antonio Banderas, Carla Gugino, and Ricardo Montalban reprise their roles as the kids' father, mother and grandfather.

Aug 6

Freaky Friday: With the humorous tone of "What a Girl Wants" and "Princess Diaries," Disney brings us a film with Jamie Lee Curtis and Lindsay Lohan. They are a mother and daughter who mysteriously switch bodies one fateful Friday the 13th. Mom is the overbooked parent that needs the perfect child to keep things in order. The daughter is a punk rocker, so they seldom see things the same way... that is, until they gain a new perspective on life.

Aug 8

The Fighting Temptations: Cuba Gooding Jr. returns to his small hometown in Georgia after losing his big city job, hoping to collect his inheritance after an elderly aunt passes away. He's called to duty to help his struggling church choir to victory in a gospel championship. With the help of Beyonce Knowles is there any doubt about a happy outcome and some great music?

Matchstick Men: Nicolas Cage is an obsessive-compulsive con artist who teams up with Sam Rockwell ("Confessions of a Dangerous Mind") to pull off a big scam. Things change when Cage's daughter (Alison Lohman, "White Oleander"), who he never knew existed, makes a surprise arrival. Somewhat quirky like "Adaptation," this is a break from the Hollywood formula affairs of the summer. And, it's the type of role that Oscar winner Cage is a master at.

S.W.A.T.: First time feature director Clark Johnson (actor in television's "Homicide" and director of TV's "The Shield") directs a huge action piece with Samuel L. Jackson, Colin Farrell, LL Cool J, Olivier Martinez and Michelle Rodriguez. Jackson heads a S.W.A.T. team that fights criminals trying to break Martinez ("Unfaithful") from state custody. Jackson and LL are not the only ones with snappy ad-libs, as Rodriguez convinced the director to put in some of her own.

August 15

Uptown Girls: Like "Freaky Friday," this is also aimed at girls.

Care-free Brittany Murphy becomes the nanny for a very serious Dakota Fanning ("Sweet Home Alabama") after the money she inherited is stolen. They both learn how to act their ages. Murphy describes this movie as "...a love letter to all little girls."

The Medallion: Jackie Chan has superhuman powers after being in an accident involving a magic medallion. He's soon fighting evil warriors who want it back, with the help of Claire Forlani ("Meet Joe Black").

Still Playing

28 Days Later: ★★★★★
Bend It Like Beckham: ★★★★★ 1/2
Finding Nemo: ★★★★★
How to Deal: ★★
Johnny English: ★★★★★
The League of Extraordinary Gentlemen: ★★★★★ 1/2
Pirates of the Caribbean: The Curse of the Black Pearl: ★★★★★
Swimming Pool: ★★★★★ 1/2
Whale Rider: ★★★★★

Marci X: Lisa Kudrow manages a rap music recording company after her father Richard Benjamin (also the director) has a heart attack. Rap star Damon Wayans is not known for making life easy and Kudrow's formerly pampered existence abruptly changes. This could be a break out role for Kudrow.

Also in August:

Wonderland: Val Kilmer portrays the late porn star John Holmes. Holmes literally bedded thousands of women but only loved two, his wife (Lisa Kudrow) and his lover (Kate Bosworth, "Blue Crush"). Aside from the seedy porn business, Holmes allegedly helped orchestrate a drug heist, and was later forced to witness a brutal retaliatory murder in a house on Wonderland Avenue in LA. Somewhat like an over the top "Boogie Nights," this is for those that like seeing life's underbelly.

The 'Flatlander' Files: On the road in Wisconsin 'beat' in the door

I knew what we were getting into as "Daddy-O" gunned the Suburban past the "Welcome to Door County" sign. This place was a real hotbed in the summer...like only a bunch of repressed Vikings could create after chipping at ice fishing holes for eight months.

Take the raw beauty of a New England seacoast and plunk it down in the Midwest. Then include a series of charming villages built by these hardy natives, and a vibrant community of artists who know inspiration when they see it. Finally, add US...white-legged summer tourists with, hopefully, enough cash to sustain this delicate "ecosystem" through the long winter months.

But Dad liked to pretend we were only posing as tourists. That's why he had us camping in scenic Peninsula State Park. After all, how hard was it for a devil-may-care nature photographer and his family to sling a few hammocks up in the trees?

By this time, we knew better. Before he finished backing the truck up to our assigned plot of dirt and rusty grill...our "free spirit" could pass for Captain Bligh on enforced shore leave. That's because he had the task of building Rome in a day with a labor force better suited for the "Gong Show."

You'd think by now we would master the finer points of major construction. How long does it take to turn a truckload of camping equipment into a serene setting worthy of any L.L. Bean catalog? TOO LONG when a storm front is coming in!

Time to escape to the confines of our Kool-Aid encrusted merry mobile—and the sanctuary of one of Wisconsin's few remaining drive-in theatres, The Skyway in Fish Creek. As luck would have it, Disney's "Finding Nemo" was on the bill. Dad really related to the character Dory. Whenever Dory apologized for her short-term memory problem, our intrepid leader would mumble, "Yeah, I hear ya...Year after year, I end up elbowing my wife for the last soggy marshmallow...but do I remember? NOOO!"

And, as for elbows, nothing beats a cozy night in the campground, with the entire family groping for breathing space in the one tent left standing. Add to this some wayward creature scraping at the door, and I end up giving dozing Dad a full body slam worthy of the World Wide Wrestling Federation. And then I get REALLY SCARED. He seems to have his two beady eyes on me the rest of the night...I mean my husband.

No big surprise that I'm put out to pasture the following morning. I didn't even have to pretend I had a gimpy leg from leaning against the door all night. The rest of the family knew I had my ace in the hole, and, by now, they were more than willing to put me in it.

I was laid to rest at Evergreen Hill...not a local cemetery, but a nice, clean rental condo in Fish Creek. "Robin Hood" and his band could "dig" their Sherwood Forest...I wasn't hip; I was just plain beat. Give me my own "Walden"...complete with whirlpool and cable TV.

The dinner bell rings at Emily's Restaurant

By popular customer demand, the marvelous food and comfortable atmosphere always found at Emily's Restaurant is now available from 6:30 a.m.-9:30 p.m., seven days a week.

Delicious dinner specials now adorn the menu already filled with mouth-watering breakfast and dinner delectables.

Emily's, located at 488 Green Bay Rd. in Waukegan, is owned by two brothers, Steve and George Grekousis and John Lapatos, who collectively are proud of 20 years in the restaurant business.

The fact that the people at Emily's genuinely like and want to please their customers has packed in since it opened a year ago, thus the demand for more.

Whether you order the fluffy omelet, a specialty, or feathery light crepes, topped with fresh fruit from the breakfast menu, or the hearty hot turkey and beef sandwiches, always a lunch favorite, you will enjoy your visit to Emily's.

Whether you feel like an inexpensive dinner out or you just don't want to mess up your kitchen at the end of a busy day, the welcoming doors at Emily's are open for dinner. There are four different dinner specials daily ranging from $5.95-$7.25, such as Greek chicken, baked in olive oil, spiced with a hint of oregano and lemon and served with oven roasted potatoes.

For pasta lovers, try the Greek lasagna, bubbling in a thick cheesy tomato sauce, with a succulent cream sauce on top.

Emily's has made a lot of friends in the Chain o' Lakes area since last year, and Steve, always anxious to make more friends, invites you to "stop and try us, I'm sure you'll like us." The green and red logo at Emily's beckons. Call 847-336-7700 for more information.

Sondheim's new musical 'Bounce' a buoyant affair

New musicals are a rarity, expensive to produce and fraught with risk. So when a production comes along with music and lyrics by the savvy Stephen Sondheim and direction by the equally savvy Harold Prince, expectations run high.

"Bounce," now premiering at Chicago's Goodman Theatre, is such a musical, and it delivers the goods.

Set between 1896 and 1833, it's based on a book by John Weidman and loosely traces the up-and-down lives of brothers Addison and Wilson Mizner, a pair of real-life adventurers who made their dying father's advice their life's ambition. Papa Mizner, who himself never let an opportunity slip by untested, ingrained the idea in his sons of not dwelling on the times of failure. Hit a dead end?

"Find a new road, forge a new trail - bounce," he advised.

During its 2 hours and 45 minutes, "Bounce" tracks in lively song and narrative the disparate yet kindred lives of the two get-rich-quick siblings as they proceed at roller-coaster speed repeatedly gaining and losing their fortunes.

CRITIC'S CHOICE by Tom Wilton

they chased gold in the Yukon to the time - going separate ways - Addison (Richard Kind, in a stunning performance) pursued wealth in Hawaii, the Far East and South America while Wilson (Howard McGillin, a guileless rogue) perfected his gambling and developed a taste for drugs and wealthy women who allowed him to dabble in the theater, horse racing and prize fighting. They finally reconnect in Palm Beach, Fla., where Addison was blossoming as an architect who built exotic houses for the rich and famous. The two colorful brothers eventually rode a boom-and-bust construction cycle in Boca Raton.

Other key players in "Bounce" include Jane Powell as Mama Mizner, who dotes on Wilson even though steady Addison always provided the support she needed; Herndon Lackey as Papa Mizner, the boys' inspiration; Michelle Pawk as the gold digger

"Bounce" begins and ends with the two dead brothers meeting up in the hereafter where they recall their exploits, from when dancehall hostess-turned-wealthy widow who hooks up with Wilson, and Gavin Creel as Hollis Bessemer, son of an industrial magnate and the one who befriends Addison. A hard-working ensemble also provides support.

The musical's nicely woven plot hangs together well through the flashes of success to the sudden reversals experienced by the Mizner boys who never know when to quit - even in heaven, where they surmise "the road to eternity offers the greatest opportunity of all."

Set designer Eugene Lee makes effective use of an ever-changing mix of sparse rollout period furniture and simple dropdown scenery.

Undoubtedly some of the lyrics will undergo a few tweaks here and there and Act I may shed some of its 90 minutes, but "Bounce" has all the essential ingredients for a successful run on Broadway.

"Bounce" Goodman Theatre, Chicago through Aug. 10 Tickets: $40-$60 312-433-3800.

Open House walk to feature Lake Geneva historic homes

Six homes in the Maple Park Historic District in Lake Geneva, Wis. will be featured in the inaugural 2003 Historic Open House Walk, Sunday, July 27, 1-5 p.m. The homes, which date from the 1840s to the 20th century, showcase a variety of architectural styles and elements.

For over a century, the resort town of Lake Geneva has been the destination of summer visitors looking to escape the concrete and steel of the city. Known as the "Newport of the West," Lake Geneva maintains its turn-of-the-century charm and boasts numerous fine hotels and resorts, charming inns, vintage bed and breakfasts and cozy lodges. Dubbed the "olde towne," the Maple Park District is where the earliest residents of Lake Geneva built their homes and is located just blocks from the downtown shopping area.

According to Mary Tanner, treasurer of the Maple Park Homeowners' Association (MPHOA), the event sponsor, the Maple Park area boasts 12 distinctive architectural styles. "This year's tour will feature a Greek Revival, Mediterranean, Second Empire, farmhouse, Gothic and vernacular of Lake Geneva style," said Tanner.

A highlight of the tour will be the home of John R. Powers, author of "Do Black Patent Leather Shoes Really Reflect Up?" and a Lake Geneva resident since 1989.

Tickets for the house walk are $10 and may be purchased at the following Lake Geneva locations: Chamber of Commerce, 210 Wrigley Dr., The Stencil Place, 905 Main Street; Flemings's, 711 Main St.; McCullough's, 269 Broad St.; Crow's Nest Bookstore, 605 Main St.; Breadloaf Book Shop, 835 Wrigley Dr. and Mary Tanner's Antique Shop, 915 Main St. Checks and ticket requests may also be sent payable to Mary Tanner, 915 Main St. Lake Geneva, WI. 53147. Tickets purchased by mail may be picked up at 915 Main Street during regular business hours. A map to the homes will be provided with the tickets. Walking tour participants may begin the tour at any home.

In conjunction with the 2003 Historic Open House Walk, Field Stone Farm will offer horse-drawn carriage rides for an additional fee.

AT A GLANCE

Police derail alleged pot dealer

Antioch—Two weeks of joint investigation by the Lake County Sheriff's Office and the Antioch Police Department led to the arrest of Timothy George Camphouse, 32, of Antioch, on July 21, for the possession of over 20 pounds of cannabis with the intent to distribute. Additionally, $3,525 in cash and other controlled substances such as Valium and Vicodin were found in the home when the search warrant was executed. Camphouse is believed to be a "major supplier" according to police.

Suspect in home beating case flees

Mundelein—An arrest warrant has been issued for Sandra Rogers for her involvement in the case in which 17-year-old Jonathon McMeekin brutally attacked her ex-husband and his wife. Rogers remains at large. She lived with McMeekin at the time of the attack. McMeekin pleaded guilty for beating Rick Rogers and his current wife, Angela Gloria, in the early morning hours with a two-pound sledgehammer as they slept in their Lincolnshire home.

Rogers

McMeekin has maintained Sharon Rogers played a role in the attacks. Rogers is charged with solicitation of murder, two counts of attempted first-degree murder and four counts of home invasion. Citizens are asked not to approach Rogers, but call Lake County Crime Stoppers at 847-662-2222 with information.

Murder trial begins; second for ex-cop

Fox Lake—Both sides were hopeful that the murder trial against a former police officer will stay in McHenry County. Jury selection began this week in the trial of John Cumbee, 43. The former Fox Lake Police officer remains in McHenry County Jail, accused in the death of Kathleen Twarowski. Twarowski died in May 1992. The original verdict of guilty was overturned on appeal a year later.

Businesses look for MainStreet support

Grayslake—Downtown revitalization efforts are becoming stronger in Grayslake as local business owners rally residents to push for their cause: becoming a MainStreet community.

Connie Cominsky, Grayslake Partners in Business member, said business members are opening up the discussion about the MainStreet program to residents.

Lakeland Media taps Schroeder, Sherman

In an expansion of executive duties, Publisher William H. Schroeder announced two promotions at Lakeland Media.

Robert J. Schroeder, general manager, will be executive vice-president of Lakeland, the only locally-owned newspaper published in Lake County.

David T. Sherman will become vice-president of sales and marketing. Sherman formerly was the retail advertising sales and marketing manager.

According to Bill Schroeder, the promotions reflect Lakeland Media's continued growth in one of the nation's top-ranked demographic areas and recognizes the contributions and ability of two outstanding newspaper professionals.

"Bob Schroeder and Dave Sherman have been instrumental in building Lakeland Media in recent years. Both are community-minded and involved in civic advancement of Lake County and the communities our newspapers serve," Bill Schroeder said.

Each executive is a life-long resident of Lake County. Bob Schroeder grew up in the Ingleside-Fox Lake area and graduated from Carmel High School in Mundelein. He now resides in Libertyville with his wife Elise, a former Lake Forest resident.

Sherman was raised in Round Lake where his father, Robert, was superintendent of Round Lake School District. He now resides in Gurnee with his wife Tami, and expects their first child in November.

During the past year, Schroeder and Sherman have each served the local community in roles as chamber of commerce executives. Sherman is the Lake County Chamber of Commerce's chairman of the board, while Schroeder is serving his second term as vice-president of the Lindenhurst-Lake Villa Chamber.

Lakeland Media publishes 11 weekly-community newspapers in Lake County; the Market Journal, a direct-mailed shopper-newspaper in Lake County with distribution in McHenry County; the Great Lakes Bulletin, the official newspaper of the Great Lakes Naval Training

Camp Courage

Children learn how to cope with grief together

By CHRISTY BLANDFORD
Lakeland Correspondent

Seven years after her father's death, Donya Buglio is still grieving.

The 9-year-old girl says spending time with other children who have also lost a parent solaces her. So for the past three years, she hasn't missed a day at Camp Courage.

Donya and 32 other children who are grieving over the death of a friend or relative spent four days last week at Camp Courage openly discussing their feelings.

For nearly 10 years, grief counselors from the Hospice of Northeastern Illinois have run the camp at the YMCA Camp Duncan in Ingleside.

At camp, no judgments are made. Crying is accepted, and sometimes encouraged. Children are not punished for angry outbursts, nor are they questioned about withdrawing from the group.

Counselors are there to encourage the children to let their feelings out, no matter what form they manifest into.

Camp Courage is an outlet for children to explore and express their grieving in a supportive environment, said camp co-leader Terry Rasmussen.

"It's a safe place for them to be able to deal with their grief and we want them to know that," she said.

Having a safe environment to express her feelings is what brings Donya to camp each year.

She said she was frightened and shy during her first camp visit, but now she enjoys camp and has opened up.

"I was kind of scared the first time ... now I'm feeling good," she said. "It made me talk about my dad more."

Donya's father, Donald Jr., was killed in a motorcycle accident when she was 2 years old.

Her four older siblings are dealing with their grief in other ways, but Donya's mother, Dawn, said Donya needed the camp to let her feelings out.

"I think sometimes she acts sort of like it really didn't happen or sort of forgets, but I wanted her to go through the grieving process—it's been awhile, but it's still kind of new to her," Dawn said.

Dawn, a Libertyville resident, said camp has instilled in Donya the courage to share her sadness, confusion and questions about her father's

Hopes high as annual fair comes to close

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

"We're over the getting-started jitters," said Lake County Fair Board President Bill Obenauf.

Obenauf and Pam Renaker, both of Ingleside, are in charge at this year's fair as president and vice president, respectively. Opening day activities included a ceremony to begin the fair, in its 75th year, and it did not end until Meghan Cashman began her year as Miss Lake County Fair, 2003. The fair continues at the Lake County Fairgrounds until July 27.

"The Fair Board works all year long to work and make adjustments and in the end it is all great; it is good family fun. I have been assistant superintendent, superintendent, the first female president and vice president," said Renaker, a Grant High School teacher. She said she looks forward to seeing the "one-armed bandit" act at the fair.

"I hope this year's fair sets new records," said Grayslake Mayor Tim Perry in opening remarks.

The Lake County Fair Association started in 1928 and the fair has been at the routes 45, 120 and Center Street sites since 1956.

"The fair is more than rides and funnel cakes. It is about giving kids an opportunity to learn about farm life and agriculture, husbandry and agri-business," Perry said.

Jessica Marro, Miss Lake County Fair 2002, admitted that the day was "bittersweet" for her.

"It was a very memorable year. I'm glad to be able to pass on the crown and give someone else the opportunities," Marro said.

Marro said the queens visited Winchester House, the Lake County residence for senior citizens, and made Christmas gifts for Navy veterans at North Chicago Veterans Administration.

Marro was Junior Miss Lake County in 1996.

Top talent set to close fair

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Staff Reporter

Talent shows may be passe for some, but don't tell that to the 52 singers, dancers and musicians who joined the Lake County Fair Talent Show.

The finals are this weekend, July 25-27, at the fairgrounds in Grayslake.

Twelve Junior Division finalists will compete for trophies and cash prizes ($25-150) on the junior stage at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, July 25. Eleven Senior Division finalists will compete at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday on the main stage; and eight Adult Division finalists will compete at 1 p.m. Sunday on the main stage.

This year's county talent entrants range from Heather Latakas, Antioch, 7, and an older sister, to Carol Einhorn, 80, of Lindenhurst.

John Lynn, who founded the talent show 20 years ago, and remains as its director, said the numbers of entrants are a bit down this year (52 from 78 in 2002), but the talent isn't.

The Lake County Fair, said Lynn, has had the most winners in the state competition of any of the over 100 counties in the state.

"In 20 years, with 40 chances (each county may send two contestants downstate each year), we have had people place 21 times. And I'm sure that there isn't any other county that can say that," Lynn said. "Ours is a good program; I can tell you that."

Lake County's two state champions were dancer Lauren Grant of Lake Forest (1993) and the 2002 bagpipe team of Mathew Karner and Hunter Besch of Winthrop Harbor, who won the senior division (15-21 years of age) although they were 15 years old then.

Grant has gone on to a professional dancing career and has appeared on the Academy Awards show, said Lynn.

Per talent show rules, the boys have to sit out one year from county competition, but still retain their state titles through January.

The 2003 finalists, by division, are:

FAIR

"Seeing the faces. I remember I started to cry when I was on stage," said Junlor Miss Lake County, Stephanie Corcilius. Little Miss Lake County, Suraya Williams, also said she enjoyed her year.

Meanwhile, Carol and Bill Mahoney were readying the bingo tent, organized by the American Legion 10th District chapters.

"People come in here if it gets too hot. The wives come in here as their husbands walk around," Carol Mahoney said.

Jack Warneke's family is a familiar one at the Lake County Fair. They are the ones with the waffle-served ice cream.

"We have been coming here for 43 years. The support is always good. We have loyal customers who come to see us each year," said Warneke.

COURAGE

death.

"She doesn't really have any friends that have lost a parent, so it's really comforting to her," Dawn said. "I think she really still needs this."

Children spend time at the camp participating in "grief activities" as well as recreational activities, Rasmussen said.

During one grief activity, Donya's favorite, the children decorated a "feeling mask" by painting the inside of the mask to depict how they feel on the inside, and painting the outside to represent how they express their feelings to the world.

Activities, such as mask-making, show children how to deal with the grieving process, Rasmussen said.

"They can get in touch with what they are feeling inside versus what they show on the outside to the world," she said. "They learn that what we show on the outside is not necessarily what we feel on the inside."

An ornament-hanging ceremony tearfully closes the camp each year. Children decorate pine cones to hang on a tree in memory of their lost loved one, and attach a note where they can tell their deceased parent, friend or relative whatever they want without the fear of anyone else reading it.

But for Donya, it's not the end.

Next year, she'll be one of the children sharing her feelings at the campgrounds again.

EDITORIALS

Making more room for riding trails makes good horse sense

There is a rich history to support an accepted truth that Lake County, indeed, is horse country. More than enough, in our opinion, to bolster the argument that the Forest Preserve District should take the leadership to create an enviable trail riding system.

A boast in the not too distant past was that the Lake County horse population exceeded that of Lexington, KY. We're not aware of any actual four-footed census to validate the argument. But even if the statistic was a little off the mark, it wasn't by much and making the comparison was good entertainment.

Reader Bob Bohl makes a telling argument in this week's letters department for expansion of equestrian facilities and activities in the Forest Preserve system. Getting the viewpoint of horse lovers is recommended reading.

Love for quality horseflesh was evident as far back as the World War I era when the Lake County Fair, held in Libertyville in those days, boasted a race track and grandstand where harness racing was a feature attraction. Before and during World War II, the Red Top Farm, also located in Libertyville, owned and operated by shoe magnet Irving B. Florsheim, achieved an international reputation for training and showing world-class hackney ponies and show horses. Libertyville also was the home of Hawthorn Melody Farms Suffolk draft horse hitch and other prize buggy horses often personally driven by millionaire John F. Cuneo.

Local lore tells that gangster Al Capone housed his stable of polo ponies for a time in the Roaring 20's on S. Milwaukee Ave. While that might have been more fiction than fact, "the sport of kings" became a popular spectator sport in the 1950's with matches sponsored by the Libertyville Polo Club. Crack polo teams from around the nation and overseas competed.

Horse country later shifted to picturesque farms with pristine white fences in the Barrington area and Wadsworth, where the Temple Smith Farms Lippizaner performing horses have become a prime tourist attraction. The stables, training facilities and short tracks give these open corners of the county a distinct quality. When it comes to horse and rider competition of another style, the annual Wauconda Rodeo, stretching back 35 years, is hard to beat.

Lake County 4-H keeps alive love of equine competition at the county fair. At one time, the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. maintained a mounted posse. Former Sheriff Clinton Grinnell maintained a team of matched Belgian draft horses for parade purposes and charity events. Another high profile four-footed attraction was Meister Brau's colorful antique beer wagon drawn by draft horses based in Grayslake. Individual families have become local celebrities with horse hobbies like the miniature horses of Round Lake and rare Norwegian work horses stabled near Wauconda.

It was no accident that the most popular attraction at the 2002 Lake County Fair was an appearance of the famous Budweiser Clydesdales. We just love horses!

Tending to horses and providing feed and care continues to be an important business in Lake County. Stabling for riding fans and maintaining hayride teams is a significant part of Lake County's agriculture economy.

The Forest Preserve District's expansion of walking and jogging trails has been an unqualified success. Eventually, just about every Lake County community will be linked with the highly popular trail system. We don't think it's asking too much to expand horse trails. The seven-mile trail at Lakewood Forest Preserve seems pitifully small for a county as large as Lake with a rich equestrian heritage and the demonstrated interest in horses and riding.

Commissioners won't be accused of horse'n around if they take steps to create a genuine horse trail system. Let's get started.

VIEWPOINT

'New' school money won't help suburbs

There are housewives who enjoy rearranging the living room furniture periodically. Same room, same furniture, but the new look is cause to feel good and affords an opportunity to move on to other things.

That describes the way Gov. Rod Blagojevich went about cobbling together a new education budget hailed by Democrats as the biggest school boost in years. The increase was tabbed at $384 million, breaking down to $250 more for every student in the state.

"Absolutely not true," responded State Rep. Mark Beaubien (R-Barrington Hills), part of the House Republican leadership and GOP point man in the House for budgetary matters.

The new budget was geared to increase foundation levels, a mandated base for per pupil expenditures. Poor downstate school districts will see more money, but the new education funding bill won't benefit suburban schools, Beaubien stated flatly. Most suburban districts already exceed foundation level spending. About two-thirds of the so-called new money will go for special education, transportation and teachers funding, Beaubien explained.

Despite the ballyhoo associated with finalizing school funding, including the governor's trip to Deerfield where he signed the bill and took time to read to elementary school children, state contributions to education under the new Democratic governor in reality represent huge cuts from the years Republicans were in power.

"What's so frustrating for

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Democrats is that the state doesn't have the money as in the past. Now that they have the power, imagine what the spending would be," Beaubien added.

The point where "rearranging the furniture" applies for education came from an overall cut of $1.3 billion in state spending, increasing the take from casino gambling and closing some tax loopholes that benefitted business.

From Beaubien's perspective, a genuine crisis in education funding is on the horizon. He said leaders of both parties acknowledge an impending collision with reality. Educators also know that another "furniture rearranging" won't do the job. Gov. Blagojevich will have to deal with a "real deficit" for the next fiscal year, in excess of $4 billion probably, in Beaubien's estimation. The veteran Lake County legislator predicted that a special session will be called where legislators will have to "fix the school mess." Approximately two dozen school districts in Illinois are about to teeter into state control of day-to-day operations like the long troubled Round Lake Unit District.

Different view

Kind words expressed in this column several weeks ago about honest, hard-working board of education members have been countered by Roger Tieman, long-time critic of spending practices of School District 95 Lake Zurich. Tieman got himself elected to a board he labeled as incompetent and political. A certified public accountant, Tieman objects to a board strategy of over-stating deficits to justify tax increase referenda. Tieman says the district is enjoying increased revenues, but still is projecting a $6.6 million deficit in two years. His wife, Linda, is a public school teacher in a nearby district. The honors graduate of University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire promised to keep the public informed of District 95 finances.

Thinking ahead

Parents and grandparents of babies born within the last 12 months have only until August 1 to enroll their offspring in College Illinois 529 Prepaid Tuition Program at 2002-2003 prices. Since inception, 7,000 contracts have been purchased by Illinois families. At current rates, cost of four years of public university tuition and fees could reach $79,500 for a child born this year. Information can be obtained at 877-877-3724 or visiting collegeillinois.com. A new enrollment period begins in October when 2003-2004 prices go into effect.

State Highway workers should be appreciated

A few weeks ago, I ran across a gentleman who retired about five years ago after many years of public service with the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) here in Lake County. I asked him how he was enjoying retirement, and he said except for some surgeries on his feet all was okay.

When I asked if he kept in touch with some fellow employees still working at the agency, he had a disturbed look on his face and said, "John, you wouldn't believe how low the morale is, and how many are considering early retirement to get away from it all." He said that when he worked there, everyone worked hard and had pride in what they were doing. Now, everyone

IT THROUGH

feels that they are under-appreciated and they are under a microscope no matter how hard they work.

Then I said to him that probably some of the feeling stems from a policy announced early this year by the new Secretary of Transportation appointed by Governor Rod Blagojevich. He wants the public to be on the lookout for any slacking on the job by IDOT workers and he established a tip hotline to turn in idle workers.

I am sure that when the average taxpayers heard about that policy, they thought "right on," let's get rid of these slackers who are taking advantage of us taxpayers. To me, it's a stupid policy and there are better ways to set and get higher performance standards from employees and at the same time lifting the morale of those employees.

Also, after watching for many years the workers who do so many different tasks on and near our highways, I can say that we should be grateful for the great job they do, often under adverse weather conditions and when dangerous drivers may show no regard for their safety.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Early Senate line to showcase views

Count 'em.

At this early date, there are 11 Republicans eyeing the seat to be vacated by U.S. Sen. Peter Fitzgerald (R-Ill) and nine of them have confirmed attendance at a forum at 7 p.m., Tuesday, July 29, at Gurnee Village Hall.

The program is being sponsored by the Republican Assembly of Lake County, a conservative organization sometimes confused as representing the Republican Central Committee.

Members of the arrangements committee headed by Raymond True of Libertyville announced they have commitments to attend from John L. Borling, Raymond Choudhry, John H. Cox, Dr. Chirinjeev Kathuria, Thomas J. McCracken Jr., Andrew McKenna, James D. Oberwels, Steven J. Rauschenberg and Jack Ryan. Possible attendees include Jim Durkin, defeated by U.S. Sen. Dick Durbin (D-Ill) last year, and former Lt. Gov. Corinne Wood.

Gurnee Mayor Don Rudny and Tom Adams, GOP Central Committee chairman, will offer welcoming remarks. Hal Coxon will serve as moderator.

After speeches and a question and answer period, interested persons will adjourn to the Gurnee American Legion Hall for a reception.

Present, future leader

Just turned 21, Aaron Lawlor is Lake County's youngest public official. He was appointed to a fill a vacancy on the Cook Library Board. Lawlor, who will be a senior this fall at Lake Forest College, is a resident of Vernon Hills who graduated from Libertyville High when the district still only had one high school. Lawlor is looking forward to continued public service and works on the staff of the Lake County Republican Federation.

Highly recommended

New North Chicago City Atty. Stanley Hult has the backing of celebrity defense attorney Johnnie Cochran to settle a more than two-year battle over who should have the job. Mayor Bette Thomas gave up trying to get Waukegan Atty. Bob Long approved. Long still did enough work for the city to rack up $60,000 in fees which the council refuses to pay.

Fan of Oberwels

Stopping short of an endorsement, State Sen. Adellne Geo-Karis (R-Zion) says she likes the prospects of Jim Oberwels of Aurora, who is seeking the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator. "Jim is a fine man with strong Republican principles. He is a family man and successful in business," declared Geo-Karis.

Picnic time for GOP

Republicans still believe in old fashioned political picnics. For the next several weeks, GOP will stand for Grand Old Picnic, declared Lillian Golonka of Antioch, chairman of the event scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 24, at Independence Grove Forest Preserve, Libertyville. Besides lots of food and political chit chat from 1-4 p.m., Golonka said there will be special events for "Wee-Publicans," the small fry in attendance, like a magician and moonwalk. Golonka is lining up volunteers at 847-395-1872.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

No horsing around

I have lived in Lake County since 1968. My wife and I purchased a horse in 1973 and a home with a barn shortly after and a passion for horses began and still continues today.

I am proud and pleased with what the Lake County Forest Preserve has done for its residents. You truly have a diversified program and a nice balance between recreational needs and natural unspoiled habitats.

As a horseman, however, in a very highly populated horse county, one of the highest in the country, I've always been disappointed that there was not an exclusive horse facility where one can ride more relaxed on trails set aside for horses only. The only facility in Lake County that comes close to anything like this is Lakewood and it has only at best seven miles of trail.

If I really want to enjoy a ride, I prefer to trailer my horses to places like Rock Cut State Park or Palmyra where they have overnight camping facilities. Horse people come from all over to enjoy the camaraderie and the pleasure of being with other horse people. I trailer my horses to McHenry County too, because in that county they separate the horses from the bikers and hikers. They have Rush Creek, Chain 'O Lakes, Glacier Trail, Hickory Grove and two or three other enjoyable trails. In Lake County, where a large horse population exists, we have only Lakewood. Lake County does have a long connecting multi-purpose trail system along the Des Plaines River, however, a ride on horseback here can be more stressful because of all the distractions.

With the newly acquired 800 acres near Antioch, the Forest Preserve now has an area large enough to develop a premier horse facility that will draw horse people for miles. Instead of spending money in other counties, monies will be spent in Lake County, feeding the local economy. Horse organizations of which there are many, will want to schedule one day and two or more day rides and host special events. Camp permits and fees alone will bring in a sizeable revenue, not to mention concessions and groceries.

I and hundred of other horse people envision this as an opportunity. You have other special interest facilities—golf courses, swimming and boating areas, fishing, biking, hiking, dog parks, a host of programs for nature lovers, senior citizens and children. Why not a facility for horses?

As a spokesman from people in my neighborhood we urge Lake county Forest Preserve Commissioners to have the vision to create and develop a park for a variety of equestrian activities.

Bob Bohl
Wauconda

Models vs. horses

Recently a model airplane club received a special use permit from the Lake County Forest Preserve to fly their model airplanes in and over a section of Lakewood Forest Preserve. For anyone who may not be aware of it, Lakewood Forest Preserve has the most used equestrian trails in Lake County.

Further, for anyone who may not be aware of it, horses are not as controllable as model airplanes, a turn of an ignition key does not shut them down, when they are startled they may on occasion take off and run without any intention of stopping. In that mode they are not too discriminating, running helter skelter into and over anything in their path.

Wisely the Forest Preserve District withdrew its special use permit after several accidents were caused by the airplane noise startling the horses. After several weeks of peace and tranquility, the Forest Preserve District reversed itself and reinstated the special use permit. Surely, before long a serious injury and possible death will be caused by a runaway horse startled by the airplane noise. The injury and/or death may not be limited to the rider but may very well involve the trail walkers who share the trails with the horse people. Imagine the liability that the Forest Preserve District, the Forest Preserve Board, the County Board, and the county are being exposed to when the accident becomes reality, particularly when the board already recognized the danger involved.

There are many other places where horses and noisy model airplanes don't have to co-exist. The board should relocate its special use permit area so that tragedy and liability are not part of our future.

'Over studying' growth

The problem is growth and development. When developers build homes they bring more students to fill up our schools. Tom Weber of the Wauconda Community School District 118 can't have it both ways.

He strongly supported his friends when they tore down the apple orchard to build some 800 units. He supported this growth. The voters clearly rejected Weber but the majority on the school board over-rode the voters and reelected him when a vacancy occurred. School board members Nancy Dobner and Jeff Antonetti voted against the appointment.

Weber was quoted as saying: "that the main thing I want to do was to be there when this new growth is coming in. The homes are being built now, and we have to start planning for that growth now." How wrong and shortsighted. The time to plan was before he supported the development, not after he helped create the problem.

Weber, when he led a failed attempt to lecture Springfield on how to pay for the pressures being placed on schools all over this state, criticized them for failed leadership. He told them not to: "use the excuse that you need time to study the problem and come up with a solution. This problem," he went on, "has been studied and studied, and the solution is clear."

Guess what, the problem of growth and development has been studied too. Weber and the school leadership should have told Wauconda and other towns what growth and development will do. It will overcrowd our schools, will bust the budget and put pressure on the taxpayers and voters to increase our taxes. District 118 is already shopping for land, has hired a planner to "study the problem" and will go through the motions needed to increase our taxes to pay for new school(s).

We have Weber, his conflicted interests and his poor planning to thank for helping to create the problem. The school leadership should not have put him back into this mess. We, as voters and taxpayers, can expect that Weber's solution will be to demand more money from all of us. Some solution.

Mark Mays

Wildlife beware

The planes are back again at Lakewood Forest Preserve with new rules. Signs are posted to be aware of model airplanes. Unfortunately the horses cannot read.

Also the boundaries were moved back 400 feet which the pilots seem to be ignoring. The liability is more present than ever.

No matter what rules are applied, the noise still remains in one of the most secluded and wildlife rich areas in Lake County. I have been hiking the trails for 40 years and the only manmade sounds heard were a few giggles from some teenagers riding the trails. Great care was made to place the field away from houses so the noise would not offend people. Wildlife have very sensitive ears and nervous systems. They also have no way of complaining about the irritating noise.

This year I have had the opportunity to monitor a threatened Sandhill Crane nesting in the marsh located just 100 yards from the airfield. They were nesting before the airfield was opened and have to stay in the area until the chicks can fly. When the planes were shutdown the cranes were routinely spotted feeding at the airfield. Hopefully the airfield will be relocated to a more proper area so the cranes will return next year.

A quote from Volo Bog journal, "Doesn't it give you great satisfaction to know that some of these magnificent birds come back every year to nest and raise their young in the protected environment of Volo Bog? This is a bird that had almost disappeared from Illinois. It's the bird that scientists believe to be the oldest avian species on earth dating back some five to ten million years!" Make your own conclusion!

SEEING

Some IDOT employees have lost their lives just doing their jobs. Imagine the outcry if highway employees were told to call a tip line whenever they spotted a speeding motorist. That would be called stupid, I'm sure.

Do IDOT employees take coffee breaks? Sure they do. Don't most employees in every walk of life? I can guarantee you that the amount of coffee consumed by highway employees is a "drop in the bucket" compared to that of every kind of worker within the confines of a building.

Have you ever passed by an IDOT employee and you have had the impression that he is slacking on the job? But, can you say what he was doing five minutes before you drove by or five minutes after you drive by? Do you know if he is waiting for some necessary road equipment to arrive, or any of many factors to cause him to take a temporary halt in his ordinary work functions?

The retired employee said that the last time that employee morale was as low as it seems to be now was when former Gov. Dan Walker's staff was mistreating loyal IDOT workers. There were reports that the administration was trying to scare employees into quitting so that they could hire their own patronage workers. I hope that's not the case now—The irony during those Walker years was that there was documented evidence that some of the governor's trusted political workers were ghost payrollers listed on the IDOT rolls, when they were actually doing political work and nothing closely associated with highway or transportation work.

In the scheme of things, this public spy game to "catch" slackers may not be a big deal. But, wherever you work, don't you feel that you do a much better job when someone is not breathing down your neck to find fault with your every move?

The taxpayers would be better served if the Secretary of Transportation would get rid of the "tip-line" and IDOT employees to do their jobs. The vast majority of the employees are loyal, hard-working, and dedicated and should be appreciated, rather than scorned.

'Lovers Live Longer'-The health benefits of sex

The Bellamy Brothers received the ASCAP award for the outstanding country song in 1981, for their "Lovers Live Longer". The lyrics are: "Lovers Live Longer, Lovers Live Right, So let's stay together, cause the way that we're goin', we may live forever—Babe, I read it in the news today, I'll live to be a ripe old age. Funny thing is what they had to say, is some-thing we've known all along."

ABBA's hit recording with almost the same title, "Lovers (Live a Little Longer)" goes: "Sit down and listen 'cause I've got good news for you. It was in the papers today. Some physician had made a discovery. This is what she had to say: She said that every result she had, backed her, Claiming that love's a longevity factor. So lovers live a little longer, baby!"

And there's the late Marvin Gaye, who in the 70's sang about waking up with a "sea stormin'" inside of him, and the only cure was "Sexual Healing". Back then, I remember the recording referred to as a "dirty song," and it was actually banned by several radio stations.

I guess you can say, we've "come a long way, baby," at least when it comes to what's accepted vernacular and subject matter in the music and entertainment industry. Yet, when it comes to the actual scientific perspective regarding sex, the belief that sex has a negative impact upon the individual is still prevalent in most contemporary cultures.

In the United States, the "joy-of-sex" revolution and the hippie movement of the late 60s and 70s only briefly interrupted the millennia-long tradition of sex-negative attitudes and biases. It was the advent of the HIV pandemic that soon reinforced and solidified traditional pessimistic viewpoints. For the most part what we are so used to hearing about are the risks and dangers. There's the sexual abuse factor, pedophilia, teen pregnancy, infection and disease, dysfunction, and the gay faction fighting for their civil rights.

ON CALL

That is why I was so surprised when I discovered the article about "sexual healing" that appeared in the January/February, 2003 issue of AARP magazine! That's right, AARP! Taking up three-quarters of a page is this photo depicting an almost scantily clad elderly couple, happily embracing. Seemingly well into their 80s, she's in a quilted robe, but he's chubby naked down to his waist. The caption reads, "Hug addicts. Good sex fights illness, eases pain and helps you look young. It's also fun." Yep, they are grinning!

No, this isn't an ad for Viagra. It's an article that tells us "why a romp in the sack is good medicine"—their words, not mine. And when comparing apples to oranges, rather, when given a choice between a heart-shaped box of vegetables and a night of "unbridled passion" as to which is the healthier Valentine's Day gift, if you guessed the latter, you're right on the money.

The focus is on the research supporting the theory that making love not only burns calories and lowers stress levels, but in addition, it also battles illness. The article cites a recent study done by author and Ph.D., Carl Charnetski. He found that participants of the study who had sex once or twice a week had 30 percent higher levels of immunoglobulin A (leading to a higher resistance to colds and other infections) than those whose sexual encounters were less frequent.

Other benefits listed include greater pain tolerance, increased longevity, and a more youthful appearance. No need for the anti-wrinkle cream if the findings of Scottish researcher, David Weeks (also a Ph.D.) are reliable. He managed to get 3,500 supposedly honest subjects to report on their sexual activity, and then asked a six-judge panel to guess their ages. Subjects who had an active sex life looked 7 to 10 years younger than their actual age.

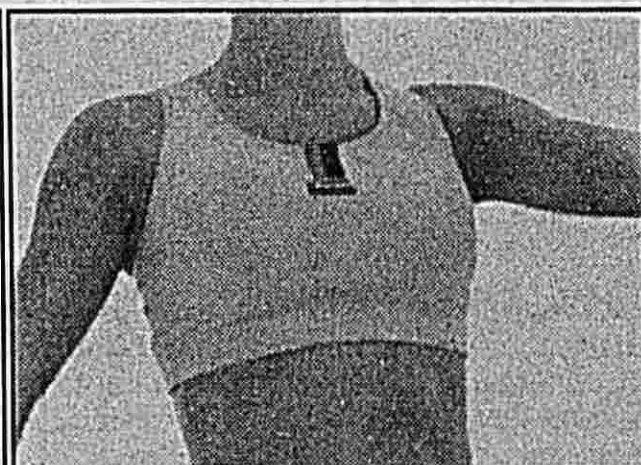

One of my dear friends, I dare not mention her name, asked me if companionship—a holding hands relationship—does the same thing. No, I'm not kidding; she was serious.

For the sake of clarification, the definition of an active sex life for both women and men means to be aroused and achieve orgasm. According to Beverly Whipple (another Ph.D., who is mentioned in the article), President of the Society for the Scientific Study of Sexuality, women who achieved orgasm increased their pain tolerance by 75 percent. I'm not even going to venture to guess how they came up with this one.

In any event I checked out this Society on the Internet. Yes, it's for real, and they provide an impressive report collaborated with the Planned Parenthood Federation of America. Titled "The Health Benefits of Sexual Expression", the published research findings are more than impressive.

So next week, I'm going to give Sex and the City's columnist, Sarah Jessica Parker (Carrie), some pretty tough competition with the revelation of these amazing sexual research findings. Till then, as you can hardly wait to read my next column, we'll call this one a "cliffhanger!"

Whoops! Did we destroy our child?

Hi Dr. Singer,

I have a rather embarrassing question to ask you. Usually, when my husband and I get intimate, we are very careful about locking our door and making sure the kids are asleep. A few days ago, we must have either forgotten to lock the door or it must not have caught right because my 7 year old daughter walked in on us! She became very frightened and thought that my husband was hurting me. We consoled her and she was o.k. shortly after that, however both my husband and I feel just horrible about this and are wondering whether there might be more to talk to her about. Our very close friends told us not to worry about it so much and that we would probably look back and laugh about this years from now. We aren't laughing much now! We are worried about what she thinks and also what she might say out in the world. Can you tell us whether we should be concerned or not. Thanks! A.R.

Dear A.R.,

The first thing I would like to say to you is that you should calm down and relax. It isn't the best of situations, but it is not as if you did something purposely in front of her. These things happen all the time and probably more than you think. She will more than likely be fine, but I will give you some thoughts that I have on the subject.

The first thing I would suggest is that you do address it with her. She not only saw something, but she was scared by it so chances are, she might still be feeling scared. She might also have misinterpreted your reaction. Her fear level might have been more of a response to your quick reaction than what she actually saw. She might have taken the chaotic nature of the reaction to mean that she did something bad. I would probably sit down with her and first ask her what she thought happened that night. If she seems not to know at all and she seems honest about that (not just hiding it,) then I wouldn't worry about trying to explain much to her. If, however, you do find that she has thought about it, is afraid, or is able to give information about anything, you will need to speak further about it. If she does know, I would explain to her that this is something that happens between adults who are married and who love each other. I would be careful to make sure that she understands that it is an adult thing to do because if she thinks that the only thing required for this to happen is love, than you might have some unwanted reports about her if she feels love towards any other kids. You don't want that type of miscommunication to happen. You will want to clear up for her that her Dad wasn't hurting you and that she should not be afraid of that. That this is a way that married, adults can show love for each other.

PARENT'S PLACE

Based on another family I met who had the same thing happen to them, I have another very important piece of advice for you. This would be to make sure that she knows that this is not something to be talked about at school, camp, etc. I had one situation in the past, in which, a little boy went to school after seeing the same thing and told his entire class that his Dad was hurting his mom and it blew up into a mess Grande! You don't have to make her feel like she is keeping a secret (because sometimes that can become more irresistible to tell.) It can be explained that it is a private thing and something that we don't talk about at school or camp, etc. Tell her, though, that she can always talk to you about it.

I don't think you need to explain all the facts of life to her at 7 just because this happened, but I do think that if you avoid talking to her and she is feeling bad about it, not only could it make her feel bad in an ongoing way and cause a lot of questions and fear over time, but it will be a missed opportunity for you to really help her feel better and get closer to her.

So, relax and stop feeling like you have damaged her in some way. This happens a lot and kids recover just fine from it. I would suggest that you replace the bedroom lock though!

Senate Drug Plan A Hard Pill To Swallow

AS REPORTED IN THE JUNE 23RD CHICAGO SUN-TIMES
BY ROBERT GENETSKI, A VETERAN CHICAGO ECONOMIST

As the details of the U.S. Senate plan to create a Medicare drug benefit emerge, it becomes apparent the plan is about as bad as one can imagine. Both House and Senate bills would require senior citizens to spend a significant amount of their own money in order to receive government benefits. Coverage would disappear after drug costs reached a certain level and then resume only if costs reached a considerably higher plateau.

In the final analysis, the Medicare plans being proposed will cover only 22% of senior citizens' drug costs. The seniors will pay the other 78% themselves.

What's The Answer For Now? Introducing... SAVE ON MEDS!

Save On Meds, a Lake County company is fighting to keep prescription medication costs to a minimum by providing a safe and reliable method of securing prescription medications from Canada at reasonable prices.

The Senate voted on June 20th to allow drugs to be imported from Canada, where prices are significantly lower, and the Canadian government has guaranteed the quality of the medication being exported into the U.S.

'Schlafer, Devall have plenty of reason to smile at Wilmot

Al Schlafer of Sussex made sure it was not going to be another 14 years before he visited victory lane at Local Motion Entertainment's Wilmot Speedway one-third mile clay oval. Schlafer held off a late charge to record back-to-back wins in the winged outlaw sprint car 20-lap feature on Wisconsin Fans For Auto Racing (WFFAR) Night.

Ed Devall of Waukegan celebrated the birth of a new baby boy earlier in the week by winning his second straight IMCA modified feature and his third main of the season.

Other winner's on the evening included Jimmy Scanlon of Pleasant Prairie, who won his first 15-lap hobby stock feature of the season.

And, Randy Schneider of Burlington became the third different Basic International Car (BIC) feature win in as many weeks for the new 4-cylinder compact stock car division.

"This could be habit forming," said Schlafer after the sprint win. "I saw Doug Dean's front wing on my inside on the one restart, so I decided I'd better get on it and stay on it. I had one setup for the dry on the car after the heat races, but then saw the track changing and we thrashed to go back to a wet track setup. It worked."

Schlafer lead wire-to-wire, but not without holding off some stiff challenges. A lap-8 caution for a minor two-car tangle set up the move Schlafer referred to in his comments. Doug Dean worked the inside line tight going into turn one on the restart. The two briefly were wing to wing before Schlafer powered to the high side down the back straightaway to retake the lead.

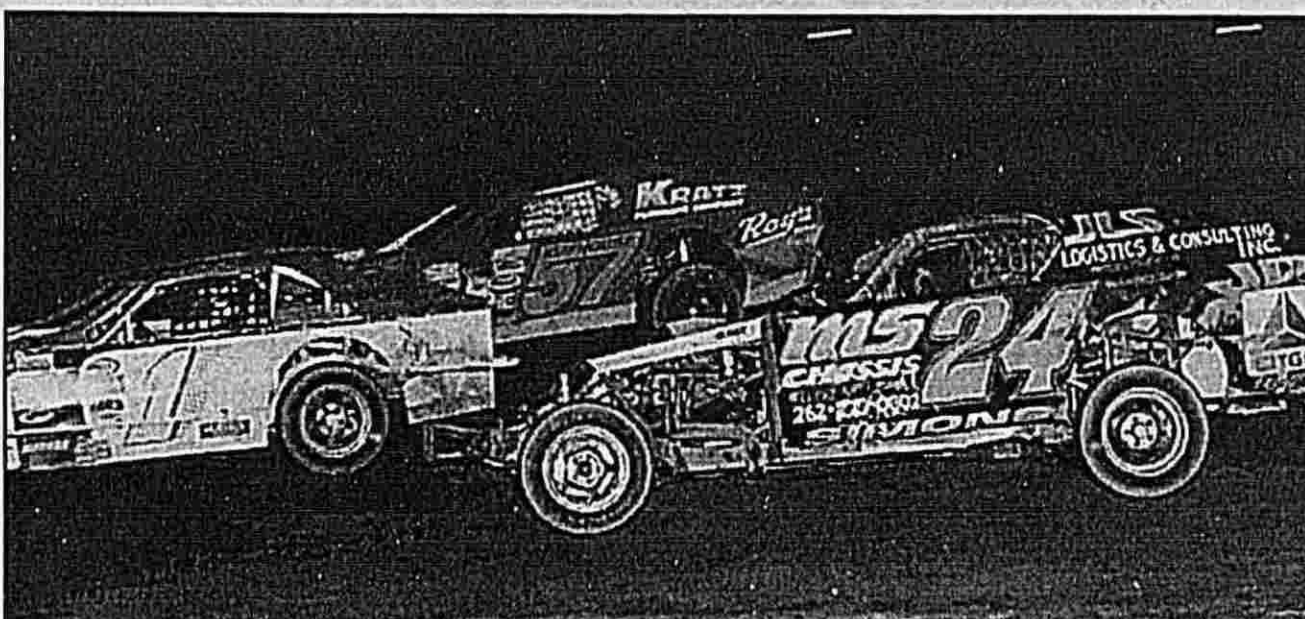

At the finish it was Schlafer, who had won his first feature since 1989 at Wilmot one week earlier, taking the victory. Dean held off the fast closing Kevin Hinich for second. John Edquist wound up fourth, while John Tierney took fifth place. Dean and Hinich both earlier won their first heat races of the season.

"This is a very special week for me," said Devall, referring to the birth of his son, Joseph Edward, on the morning of July 14. "I have to thank the good Lord above for all of the blessings I've been having. I have to thank my wife, Lisa, and my daughter, Anna, for the support they've given me not only this year, but throughout my racing career. I thank my family and all of these great fans who come out and not only support us, but all of the divisions that compete at Wilmot every week."

Seven caution flags hampered the who came from the back following the lap two incident, to finish second. Larry Surleta came from 15th to finish fourth. Lee Tibbitts, who also restarted in the back following the lap two pile up, recovered for fifth.

progress of the modified main, eventually causing it to be cut short due to a time limit. Tommy McKinney took the initial lead. The first yellow came for an eight-car pileup in turn one. None of the drivers were injured and all cars were able to restart.

McKinney's spin in turn three while leading caused the second caution on lap four. Tom Brown inherited the lead on the restart. Two laps later, just prior to another yellow flag, Devall shot to the outside overpowering Brown for the top spot.

The caution flag flew five more times for various minor incidents during the ensuing dozen laps. The checkered appeared after the last incident on lap 18 that involved a driver being penalized for rough driving and the race being stopped at that point due to the track self-imposed time limit.

Devall scored the win coming from ninth starting spot in the 21-car feature field. Nick Simons edged out Antioch's Scott Kuxhouse, Modified heat wins went to Devall, Tony Kautz and Mike Sullivan. Devall's finish, coupled with Sullivan's having bad luck placing 19th after dropping out with damage in one of the incidents, saw Devall take over the division point lead by one. Devall has 315 points with Sullivan and Surleta tied for second at 314.

Scanlon was up to the challenge going on for his first feature win of the year. Point leader William Groleau, who had won two straight features in his El Camino, clipped Gary Foster at the finish line by a couple feet for second. Darryl Traber, making his first regular season start at Wilmot, was an impressive fourth. Chuck Pinkalla, who was also making his first start winning a heat race earlier, came across fifth.

Ken Netzel won the other hobby stock heat, but failed to make the feature start due to mechanical problems.

Bob Koch took the early lead in the non-stop 10-lap main. Schneider shot to the outside at the midway point, taking top spot after battling side by side using the new banking in turn one. Schneider scored the win, his first on dirt. Heat winner Nick Petska came on strong at the end to just beat out Koch for second by about the length of a bumper. Chris Blake was fourth. Scott Norton finished fifth.

The BIC 4-cylinder class is a new division competing at Wilmot regularly. The rules and the division are a cooperative effort with Lake Geneva Raceway promoter Kevin Dawson and Local Motion Entertainment, Inc. co-promoters Brown and Simons. The cars compete weekly on Fridays at Lake Geneva on the asphalt. Under the same rules, the BIC cars have the opportunity to race a second night on dirt. Rules are available at on the web site www.lakegenovaraceway.com.

The new Wilmot Speedway grandstand family ticket continues to be available. A Family Ticket costing $25 will admit two adults plus as many children ages 0-15 accompanying them.

Grandstands open at 5 p.m. each race night with the first race scheduled for 7. For latest information contact the 24-hour race line at 262-862-2446 or the web site at www.wilmotspeedway.com.—Mike Babicz

Fairygodmothers do make dreams come true

The Fairygodmother Foundation will host its 4th Annual 'Strokes of Luck' golf outing on Tues., Aug. 5 at Highland Park Country Club.

The outing will be held in honor of John D., a 23-year-old wish recipient battling brain cancer. John graduated from DePaul University on a golf scholarship and always dreamed of golfing at the legendary Pebble Beach Golf Course.

"On June 20, the weekend before receiving his third critical brain surgery, Fairygodmother Foundation sent John and his brother to California to realize John's wish," said Bonnie Ilyse Tunick, founder and executive director of the foundation. "John's wish illustrates how the support we receive from golfers joining us at our annual 'Strokes of Luck' Golf Outing makes important end-of-life wishes come true!"

The outing will be a shotgun start at approximately 1 p.m. Tickets are now on sale for $150 per person and $500 per foursome and may be purchased by calling Fairygodmother Foundation at 773-388-1160.

The day will kick-off with a barbecue lunch followed by 18 holes of golf. Players will have a chance to win fabulous prizes in contests such as the hole-in-one and longest drive. There will also be a raffle and event gifts as well. An awards ceremony will conclude the event.

The mission of Fairygodmother Foundation is to grant wishes to adults 18-and-older and families facing terminal illness (having a year or less to live). In the process of fulfilling wishes, the charity creates an opportunity for peace, closure, a sense of belonging, and cherished memories for everyone involved. The foundation has granted nearly 300 important end-of-life wishes for families having nowhere else to turn. To learn more about Fairygodmother Foundation, please call 773-388-1160 or visit the charity's web site at www.fairygodmother.org.

The Timothy H. Osmond Memorial Golf Outing will be held on Sun., July 27 at Shepherd's Crook in Zion. Osmond, a state representative from Antioch, died unexpectedly of a heart attack in January. For further information on the event, please call 847-838-2500.

Events

Tickets and reservations are currently on sale for Literacy Volunteers of Lake County's Golf and Luau event slated to begin at 2 p.m. on Sun., Aug. 10. The first time event, offering an authentic Hawaiian show and menu, will be held at the Heather Ridge Golf Course in Gurnee. The golf outing features a best ball, 9-hole tournament.

Tickets prices are $50 per person for the golf outing or $100 for both golf and luau. Tickets for just the dinner and Hawaiian show are $50 per person. Literacy Volunteers of Lake County is a community-based organization whose mission is to assist the Adult Learning Connection in providing free instruction to adults from throughout Lake County who want to improve their basic literacy skills or who want to learn to speak English. During its last fiscal the Adult Learning Connection provided services to over 600 adults. The Adult Learning Connection also holds an after-school tutoring program for children in grades four and five who have been referred by their classroom teacher as needing extra academic help.

The deadline for reservations for the golf and luau is August 1 and tickets may be purchased by calling golf chairman Mike Mattson at 847-244-1855 or the Adult Learning and Technology Center at 847-360-8600.

Spahr qualifies for Western Amateur

Former Mundelein High standout Kyle Spahr fired qualified for the prestigious Western Amateur after shooting a 2-over-par 74 at PrairieView Golf Course.

Hole-in-one

Aces seem to be coming up wild for a few of area golfers, who recorded their first hole-in-one of their golfing career. First, Geanne Dulay recorded an ace on the 97-yard par-3 4th hole at Heather Ridge in Gurnee. Then, two players posted aces at Stonewall Orchard G.C. in Grayslake. Gary Ochs aced the 135-yard 5th hole, while Steven Kessel used a 3-iron to ace the 215-yard, par-3 13th hole.

Grayslake's Kyle Straub fired rounds of 75-76 to finish fourth in the Illinois Junior Golf Association's Tournament Players Series Event No. 3 at Foxford Hills Golf Club in Cary. For his efforts, Straub collected 150 IJGA Player of the Year points. Zion's Chris Bouchard finished seventh with a 36-hole total of 152.

In the girls senior division, Waukegan's Kate White picked up 130 IJGA Player of the Year points after finishing fifth in the event with a total of 170.

Competing in the junior girls division, Antioch's Megan Placko finished third with a 92 at the IJGA Regional held at Deerpath in Lake Forest.

In the girls senior division, Libertyville's

Kelly Lazar was third with an 83. Lindenhurst resident Nicole Gluzinski was fourth with a 94. Illinois PGA.

Bulldogs sting Zee-Bees

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

No, it's not March. No, it's not winter.
But you might want to make a note.

Arguably two of the best teams in the county last year, Waukegan and Zion-Benton locked horns in the first annual College of Lake County summer league title game.

Back-and-forth, slam dunks, steals, good defense, runnin' and gunnin'—this one had the makings of what could very well be a sign of things to come when the sectionals roll around at the storied 'Dog Pound', or Waukegan's East Gym, come March 2004.

"We're trying to keep everything in perspective," said Bulldog second-year head coach Brian Colbert, whose team pulled off a 62-54 victory in the title game. "Zion's a bunch of warriors. We're going to have to beat them (in the IHSA state tournament) at some point. Beating them twice in this tournament definitely helps our confidence. We struggled a little tonight, especially in the first half. But we still managed to win, and it's good if we struggle and still can win games."

Colbert has a fine core of players returning for this upcoming school year. Juniors-to-be Laron Frazier, who poured in 18 points in the title game, and big man Emanuel Gaiter (16) will join senior Fred Finley (5 points in title game) in leading the Dogs.

"We're still growing and developing," said Frazier. "But we're more relaxed out there. A lot of us have been playing together for a couple of years now. We're continuing to gain confidence every time we step on the court."

As for Zion, head coach Don Kloth's troops will certainly miss the services of All-State guard Andre White, who will incidentally play for Shawn Chism and the Lancers starting this winter.

But Zion, which made it to the super-sectionals last March, will still be a force on the hardwood, especially with senior guard Julian Lott (18 points against Waukegan), senior forward Quincy Rogers (12), and senior big man, junior-to-be Keenan Davis returning.

Waukegan wound up going undefeated at 12-0 in the 6-week league. That included the victory in the title game.

Physicals at CLC
Speaking of CLC, any athlete who plans on playing in a fall sport needs to have their physical completed by the first day of practice. Athletes need to use the form provided by the college. They can use their own doctor if they like. The other option is that CLC will have Dr. David Drexler or Dr. Jason Johnson giving physicals in the Physical Education Center from 3-6 p.m. on Fri., July 25. The cost for the physical if given by Drexler or Johnson is $25. Checks can be made payable to CLC Athletics.

Other CLC news and notes
Tryouts for the Lancer men's golf team will begin on Mon., Aug. 18 at White Deer Run G.C. in Vernon Hills. All players should report to the driving range at White Deer no later than 1 p.m.

Entertainment for KIDS at the Lake County Fair

The Lake County Fair offers a wide variety of spectacles and entertainment that children of all ages are sure to enjoy. In addition to our grandstand events and musical performances, the Lake County Fair provides other acts that roam the fairgrounds entertaining some of our younger fairgoers.

- Stop by Off-Center stage to catch one of the Hampel Family Circus's daily performances complete with circus illusions, juggling and Magic the Wonder Dog!

- Look up and you might see stiltwalker, juggler and balloon artist Charles Stron in one of his eye-catching costumes.

- Everyone is always laughing when Moo Mania is around! Check out Farmer Earl and his puppet friends as he teaches you about the funny side of farming.

- Perry's Exotic Petting Zoo provides children the opportunity to pet and feed different ent kinds of animals. They can also learn a thing or two at one of the live animal education shows. Pony and camel rides are available for a small fee.

- Walk through the Agricultural Education Building to learn about farming in Lake County and how it affects each and every one of us. Kids can make rope, plant crops, milk a "chocolate cow" and find out what its like to be a real farmer!

- The antique tractor display is a favorite among children and adults alike! Be sure to stop by and take a look.

- Center Stage is where the magic happens! Don't miss Magic Dave's amazing magic shows occurring daily. All this and more is happening at the 2003 Lake County Fair 75th Anniversary Celebration. Don't forget: children 12 & under are FREE and, as always, there is no charge for parking. Bring the whole family for a day of summer fun at the Lake County Fair.

For more information, contact the Fair Office at (847) 223-2204 or visit online at www.lakecountyfairassoc.com.

Meet the first Lake County Fair Queen

At every Miss America and beauty pageant the contestants vow to make the world a better place and lend a helping hand to their community. These promises are usually kept while under the public eye during their term, but it takes someone special to carry that vow over into the rest of their life. That is exactly the approach Joanne Boehm has taken since being crowned the very first Lake County Fair Queen.

In a less commercialized society of 1956, the Fair Queen didn't hassle with state competitions or never ending obligations, but rather make one more glorious appearance. Once the crown was passed, the ride was over for Boehm, but her life was just beginning.

Since etching her name in the history books as Lake County's first Fair Queen, Boehm has gone on to lend a helping hand to the community while raising a family of her own. The six children of her own were apparently not enough for Boehm, as she decided to become a first grade teacher in her home town of Libertyville. She continued to work with children after leaving her teaching job, by volunteering in catholic schools around the community.

It was from this point on that Boehm started taking some initiative both in the community and in her own life. She became the CEO of the David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville, helping to form one of Lake County's magnificent recreational centers. In typical fashion, however, Boehm decided to move on and start up a business of her own. She created her own company called Balloon Productions, in which she works right out of her own home and does all sorts of balloon decor.

As for her present day involvement with the Lake County Fair, it is pretty much left to the history books. Boehm, however, does make sure to congratulate the new queen each year if she is from the Libertyville-Mundelein area. As she sends her well wishes to the new queen, Lake County could only hope that the new queen could have the same impact on Lake County that Joanne Boehm has.—By Brian Janosh

ATTENTION PET OWNERS

We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.

*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.
*Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

Diversity Hiring Gains Support

By Scott T. Fleischmann

This past week I did a keynote speech to open a local job fair. This job fair was specifically for workers who were over 50 years of age. In doing the research for this presentation I discovered some encouraging news for those who are concerned about employment discrimination.

First, some background. I believe that intentional discrimination is relatively rare. Yet, we all share an affinity with those who look like us, act like us, and participate in the same hobbies as we do. Recruiters and hiring managers are no different. However, by law, they need to take care to overcome those biases. They also need to understand that diversity is in the best interest of their company. Companies that hire people from a variety of backgrounds have divergent views on developing products, solving problems, marketing, etc.

That being said, it would appear that the value of this diversity is now understood by more organizations than in the past, especially as it pertains to older workers.
Starbucks is looking to hire older employees. Jo Davidson of Starbucks said, "Over the next ten years and upwards, the labor pool is going to come from the older workers."

The Bureau of Labor Statistics concurs, stating they "expect the labor force age 55 and older to grow by 32 percent by 2010 while those between 35-44 will shrink by 10.2 percent." Why this turnaround? The primary reason is that companies are putting more value on experience.

I believe that we learned two great lessons in the 90's that contribute to this change. The first, a mistake, was the early retirement programs that were used to reduce costs.
Rather than contributing to the Gross National Product, these elderly folk are now enjoying golf, needlepoint and time with the grandchildren. Few of us would have passed on these opportunities to start enjoying our retirement years a little early. But the loss to the knowledge base of corporate America was significant.

The other 90's experience was more positive. As we approached the year 2000, the computer programs of the past needed to be modified. Identifying a labor shortage for the amount of work that needed to be done, recruiters called out to retirees to help attack this short-term problem. Many of them returned to work for a year or two before retiring.

The pending doom that we heard about prior to 2000
never materialized. The success of the program modifications is well documented. We can be thankful to those who accomplished those tasks, including the elder workers who returned to teach us that they were still a viable alternative in the workplace.

Unfortunately, we cannot say that employment discrimination has disappeared from the face of the earth. But it is encouraging to know that some employers realize that a more diverse work force will create a more productive America.

WANTED! HOME TO RENT! FAMILY IN NEED!

Hard working mom seeks 3-4 bedroom home or a 2 flat in Lake County. It's like this. My children and I are expecting a new addition to our life, full-time "Grandma". So we need some extra room. Due to some disability, we hope to find a ranch or 2 story with one of the bedrooms, bathrooms & laundry on main level. We're so happy to have grandma come. Although we have great references and good credit, we can only afford $850/mo., w/no utilities included or $1,000/mo. with water/heat included. We'll sign lease, first, last. We're clean, professional. No animals. Please contact this good family with home. Patty (847) 370-4465.

WANTED! VACANT HOMES! STOP MAKING PAYMENTS ON AN EMPTY HOUSE. Will pay fair market value. If you'll lease w/option to purchase 12 to 24 months. (847) 838-0972.
